LBJ, Kennedy Draft Winds Rock Humphrey's Bandwagon

Demos' Big Show Opening

CHICAGO (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey held a heavy—but highly uneasy—lead for the presidential nomination today as a deeply divided Democratic party headed into its 1968 convention.

The Vice President had in his hip pocket two-thirds of the first-ballot votes needed for the top prize, but most of the talk and much of the enthusiasm were for two non-candidates hundreds of miles from this fortified city: Lyndon B. Johnson and Edward M. Kennedy.

The President, home on the ranch near Johnson City, Tex., was giving no hint on whether he'd even show up in Chicago—though his 60th birthday anniversary tomorrow offers a dramatic opportunity to put real steam behind a budding "Draft Johnson" movement.

KENNEDY SILENT

Sen. Kennedy, like Johnson an avowed non-candidate, was relaxing at Cape Cod, Mass., but a perhaps more insistent "draft" movement appeared to be surfacing here.

Forces in the Texas delegation are ready to put Johnson's name in nomination.And former Gov. Michael DiSalle of Ohio is ready with Kennedy's—and this morning important new strength turned the senator's way.

Longshot presidential hopeful George S. McGovern said if Kennedy "called me and talked to me directly and said that he wanted the nomination I would probably throw my support to him."

McGovern, a South Dakota senator, added, however: "I don't expect that to happen. I don't know about any Kennedy movement."

A second liberal senator from the midwest, Philip Hart of Michigan, endorsed Kennedy for the nomination—and Sander Levin, chairman of the Michigan delegation, said he would "lean to Kennedy if Kennedy became a candidate.

Like McGovern, both Hart and Levin spoke cautiously, saying they were not urging the last of the Kennedy brothers to get into the race.

BOOMLET SEEN

But a boom, or at least a boomlet, has been launched. Attention was centered particularly on the vote-heavy Illinois delegation where, at the direction of Mayor Richard J. Daley, a presidential preference vote was put off until Wednesday—obviously to see if either the Johnson or Kennedy drives catch fire.

On paper, at least, the strength of the declared candi-

Russ Troops To Leave, Dubcek Stays

Moscow Talks End: Czech Policy Said Tied To Soviet's

COMBINED AP & UPI

MOSCOW — The Soviet government has agreed to recognize the regime of Czechoslovak Communist party secretary Alexander Dubcek and to gradually withdraw troops from Czech soil, Communist sources said tonight.

But other sources reported some Russian troops would be stationed in Czechoslovakia.

They said Alexander Dubcek, the liberal Communist Party first secretary went along only reluctantly with a plan for a gradual pullout of Soviet forces. They said the leaders of the Kremlin first reached agreement with President Ludvik Svoboda and Premier Oldrich Cernik, and then Dubcek finally went along.

Svoboda, Dubcek and Cernik will issue separate statements on their arrival in Prague, Czechoslovak sources said.

U.N. SESSION OFF

The U.N. Security Council delayed and finally canceled a meeting on the Czechoslovak crisis today, evidently to await the outcome of the Moscow talks.

Diplomatic sources said the Russians were demanding the virtual end of Czechoslovakia's liberal reform program as the price of ending the week-long occupation. They said Soviet demands include Prague reimposing censorship and clamping down on non-Communist activity.

YUGOSLAV REPORT

But in Belgrade, the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug, in a dispatch from Moscow, said the Soviet leaders had agreed in principle to pulling out of Czechoslovakia. Tanjug said the Russian terms were those agreed upon at the Cierna Nad Tisou conference that preceded the Soviet bloc invasion last week.

One Dead, One Critical As $20,000 Blaze Hits House

One woman died and another was hospitalized in critical condition following a fire which partly gutted a home at 303 La Verne Avenue, Homestead Valley, this morning.

Mrs. Carol Bowerman, 41, of Michigan, visiting sister of Robert C. Walker Jr. and mother of three children was the victim. She was pronounced dead at Marin General Hospital at 1:30 a.m.

Deputy Coroner Richard W. Madigan said she died of smoke inhalation. Her body was taken to Russell and Gooch funeral chapel in Mill Valley.

Jean Walker, 44, Robert Walker's wife, was taken to Marin General Hospital in critical condition from smoke inhalation.

Her mother-in-law, Mrs. Walker Sr., who was also in the house at the time of the fire, escaped injury.

The howeowner, Robert Walker Jr., had been in New Orleans on business and returned this morning.

Tamalpais Valley Fire Chief Richard K. Oswald said the alarm was received at the station, which is a block away from the fire, at 12:07 a.m.

The chief ran into the house. "It was boiling like an oven and completely filled with smoke," he said. "I ran out and someone said behind me "they are in the upstairs back bedroom, go down the hall and turn left.

"I sent men with self-contained breathing apparatus in and, because of the directions, they were able to reach the women quickly."

Carl Carlson and Tad Alvord found the women huddled in the rear bedroom and carried them out. They were given artificial respiration before the ambulance arrived.

Chief Oswald said the senior Mrs. Walker, who lived with her son and daughter-in-law, occupying a bedroom on the first floor, fled through a side door.

But the two women upstairs were trapped by the flaming corridor in which the heat got so intense plastic wall plugs melted. Their bedroom window had narrow vented louvers through which they could not escape.

Chief Oswald said the fire started in a couch and because of the deep charring in the house could have been burning an hour before the fire department was called.

He said the elder Mrs. Walker was too upset to give any information on the cause.

The fire, he said, raged through the living and dining rooms and the kitchen. The living room and kitchen ceilings fell in and then the fire rampaged through the attic.

Four fire engines were on the scene and 13 volunteer firemen joined the regulars.

It took 30 minutes to put the fire out.

Crime Spiral Up 16 Pct. Nationwide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI reported yesterday a continued upswing in serious crime in the United States, accounted for largely by an increase in crimes of violence.

No city, state or geographic region appeared immune from part of the hefty 16 per cent boost in serious crime, said FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. At the same time, he noted a drop of 8 per cent in the numbers of offenses solved.

The figures were from the FBI's 1967 Uniform Crime Reports, a bulky volume of police statistics gathered across the nation each year.

Even more startling than the comparative figures for 1967 and 1966, however, were those for the current decade. These showed an increase in serious crime since 1960 of 89 per cent, with a rise in crimes of violence of 73 per cent.

Hoover said he is most con-

High School Study Asked In San Rafael

By JOANNE GRANT

A comprehensive look at the future of high schools in the San Rafael district — which could delay the planned February bond issue — was asked Saturday by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Included in the investigation will be a plan to enlarge existing Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools instead of building a third.

The board suggested studying turning the enlarged high schools into a north and south campus of San Rafael High School and busing students back and fourth for certain subjects.

Eventually, the two schools could be operated on a year-round basis to handle up to four times the present enrollment by 1980, according to Dr. John F. Plank, superintendent.

"It's difficult to decide when you don't know what you're talking about," said board member Herman L. Childress when he suggested the study at the end of an all-day meeting on the total education picture of the district.

Board member Paul Jones noted the idea of enlarging could incorporate the philosophy of creating "smallness within bigness."

It would provide an opportunity for each student to learn as learns best — either individually or in a group, Jones added.

Board president Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. suggested the north-south campus division would provide opportunities for adding such courses as graphic arts and electronics shops instead of duplicating existing shops.

The board asked to have the study completed by the end of October and planned public meetings with residents of the district to inform then of the advantages and disadvantages of each idea.

The architects, Richard Marshall and Chester Bowles, were asked to have an approximate price tag ready for the next regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the district office, Third and E Streets.

At that meeting, the board is

Heliport Planned Near Civic Center

By BRYCE ANDERSON

Plans are well advanced for a centrally located heliport for Marin County in connection with a golf course development on the Smith Dairy Ranch, northeast of the Civic Center.

The heliport would be developed, along with the golf course, by a non-profit corporation formed by three San Rafael businessmen, and leased to the City of San Rafael for operation. Bonds to finance the land purchase and development would be expected to be retired from earnings, but the city would be liable for any deficit.

PAID OFF

When the bonds were paid off, the non-profit corporation would dissolve, and both golf course and heliport would become city property.

The proposed site is one of three possible ones for a heliport near the Civic Center which were inspected recently by Donald R. Frost, county public works director, and a representative of SFO Helicopter Airlines.

SFO is seeking to relocate from its present Marin pad on the edge of Richardson Bay. It wants a more central location, with a long-term lease, and with facilities to handle larger helicopters which are expected to be in use within a few years.

Kaiser Foundation, which has a hospital on the Terra Linda side of Highway 101, across from the Civic Center; Commerce Clearing House, which is developing a research center and office buildings on Quail Hill, and Chatmar, Inc., which will operate a Holiday Inn planned for the Northgate Corth property across the highway, also are interested in having a nearby heliport.

THREE MEN

The three businessmen whose plans may bring the long-discussed heliport to reality are Irving D. Chapman of Chapman's Shoes, Milton Sxhwartz of

School Districts' Budgets Feel County Auditor's Economy Shears

Fourteen of the 23 school districts in Marin County submitted budgets calling for more operating revenues than their maximum general purpose tax rates would provide, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell disclosed today.

Mitchell had to make reductions in the 14 budgets to bring them within the legal limits.

However, total tax rates in 11 districts this year will be lower than last year because of reductions in bond payments and special override levies, Mitchell announced today.

The school district budgets will be submitted to the county board of supervisors tomorrow for formal setting of the rates.

Larkspur School District submitted a budget that would have required a general purpose tax rate 34 cents above its $2.70 legal limit, Mitchell reported. Other excesses were: Bolinas-Stinson School District, 13 cnnts; Fairfax, 8 cents; Lagunitas, 9 cents; Mill Valley, 9 cents; Nicasio, 9.5 cents; Reed, 7 cents; San Anselm0, 18.5 cents; San Rafael Elementary, 3.5 cents; San Rafael High, 11.5 cents; Novato Unified, 11 cents; Tamalpais High, 8.5 cents; Tomales High, 17 cents; Marin Junior College, 2.5 cents.

Biggest rate cuts will come in rural Lincoln School District, with a whopping reduction of 76 cents per $100 assessed valuation from last year's total rate of $1.945, and in Ross District, with a 39-cent drop. Biggest increase will be in Tomales High School District, where a bond issue for the new high school is largely responsible for a 79.5-

Ike Still 'Critical'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army doctors reported today that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has shown "further increase" in heart irritability since yesterday and remains in critical condition.

Doctors of the Walter Reed Army Hospital said that extra heart beats have been occurring with "increasing frequency."

But they added that there had been no further episodes of "rapid heart action," which constitute the more serious sympton of his condition.

Pope Considers Czechoslovak Statement

COMBINED UPI & AP

VATICAN CITY — Pope Paul VI today turned his attention to the Czechoslovak crisis. Vatican sources said the 70-year-old pontiff was amazingly fit despite the rigors of his 11,600-mile trip to Latin America.

The Pope will speak out again on the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia at his weekly general audience Wednesday, the sources said. He condemned the Soviet moves Thursday as he left Rome for Bogota, Colombia, and the first journey by a Pope in history to the South American continent.

POPE RETURNS

Pope Paul returned yesterday to be greeted by 10,000 handkerchief-waving and shouting Italians and foreign tourists at the Rome airport and again by a crowd of 3,000 when he drove into the papal summer residence at nearby Castel Gandolfo.

The leader of the world's Roman Catholics was deeply tanned and obviously exultant over his trip. The sources, however, said he had scheduled no audiences or other activities for the next two days to allow him to catch up on his rest. He was expected to stay at his Alban Hills residence until Sept. 7 or 8.

On his return, the Pope called his Latin American trip—dedicated mainly to the theme of social reform—a successful pilgrimage that would help bring men closer together. He addressed a World Eucharistic Congress, a bishops' conference and a vast gathering of peasants while in Colombia.

SOCIAL CHANGE

In his speeches he called repeatedly for social changes to end the "miserable conditions" of life of the continent's poor, partly through heavier taxation of the wealthy classes and idle rich. He condemned armed revolution to obtain social justice.

Dr. Mario Fontana said the 70-year-old pontiff had endured his gruelling public appearances at Bogeta's 8,660-foot altitude very well.

"Our days in Bogota were really beautiful and intense, filled with fervor, with crowds of people cheering not at our person but rather at the Eucharist," the Pope told the crowd that welcomed him at his summer palace.

He described his sixth foreign trip as a "happy journey" and added that "the world has become the scope of the apostolic travels of the Pope, but Rome remains our home.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

'Nuplex' For Food

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for huge "nuplexes" — nuclear complexes that would turn deserted seacoasts into thriving agricultural and industrial centers — are being developed by the Atomic Energy Commission.

A $1 billion nuplex, AEC Chairman Glenn T. Seaborg said, could sustain 100,000 farmers, laborers and their families; feed five million other people, and export enough fertilizer to grow food for 50 million others.

He disclosed the planning in a copyright interview published yesterday by U.S. News and World Report magazine.

The complexes surrounding large nuclear power plants would generate their own electricity and pump oceans for unlimited irrigation and industrial-use water, Seaborg said.

Seaborg mentioned the Middle East and India as areas where nuplexes could be built to boost food production.

Interest Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average interest rate on loans for new, single-family homes reached a record peak of 7.18 per cent in July, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports.

The average was 15 basis points higher than June, the board said yesterday, while the average term showed little change at 25.5 years and the average loan-to-price ratio declined from 74.4 to 73.7 per cent.

Around World

PLYMOUTH, England (AP) — A 1b-year-old former submarine commander, Bill Lesley King, set out Saturday on a nonstop sole voyage around the world.

Sailing a 42-foot junk-rigged schooner named Galway Blazer II, King said he hoped to complete the 28,000-mile voyage in eight months.

Pedestrian Hit By Automobile

Alan Fitzgerald, 72, of 108 Lehman Lane, Mill Valley, suffered a broken right leg and broken right arm when he was struck by a car while crossing Miller Avenue at Evergreen Lane Saturday night.

Mill Valley police reported Fitzgerald, a pedestrian, was struck by a car driven by Kathryn Mae Anderson of 401 Lake Street, San Francisco.

Fitzgerald was taken to Marin General Hospital where he was reported in fair condition today.

Insecticide Deaths

SALERNO, Italy (UPI) — Four members of the same family died Saturday after eating pears sprayed with insecticide. Another five members of the Noschese family were hospitalized.

Artillery Duels

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli spokesmen said artillery duels across the Isreal-Jordan frontier yesterday wounded one Israeli soldier and two civilians.

Presidential Boating

Record At Fair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — HemisFair, the San Antonio world's fair, had a record attendance, 100,330 persons, yesterday when two persons could get through the gates for the usual price of one.

The previous record attendance for one day, 62,219, was set on May 18, Armed Forces Day.

Sunday Drinking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington ended 34 years of liquorless Sundays over the weekend with a rash of New Year's Eve-type celebrations at bars and restaurants.

Many bars gave favors and noisemakers, one sold 5 cent drinks and another staged a symbolic destruction of small cards telling customers that liquor could not be served after midnight Saturday.

A new city ordinance went into effect yesterday permitting the sale of liquor by the drink until 2 a.m. Sunday and from noon Sunday to 2 a.m. Monday.

Chicks Donated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An airline bought 2,000 recently hatched chickens which a consignee refused to accept, then the airline wondered what to do with them.

The consignee said a delay on the flight from Newark, N.J., left the birds in poor condition. A spokesman for Trans World Airlines said, "There was some doubt as to TWA's liability, but the chicks could not survive return trip." The airline paid $650 for them.

The chicks were turned over yesterday to the Watts Labor Community Action Committee, which started a poultry ranch this year as a youth project.

Lionized

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — Police were suspicious when a couple reported early they had a lion in their car.

But there it was, in a small foreign car.

The car had stopped and the couple got out to investigate. A lion strolled up. The car doors were open and the beast hopped in.

The couple slammed the doors shut and called police, who at first thought it might be a puton.

The 2½-year-old animal, named Simba, had escaped from the Dutchess County fair grounds. He was retrieved by an attendant of the Roseknoll Animal Farm in Staatsburg.

Koreans Killed

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean troops guarding the central portion of the border demilitarized zone reported killing three North Korean infiltrators in two firefights today. No South Korean losses were given.

Nigeria War Ended?

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — A Nigerian patrol found the rebel Biafran capital Aba deserted yesterday, reliable reports said, apparently indicating the end was near in the 14-month civil war.

Festival Postponed

VENICE, Italy (UPI) — Officials postponed the opening of the Venice Film Festival until tomorrow because of a controversy triggered by the resignation of festival director Luigi Chiarini.

Electric Cars Race Against Smog, Fumes

"The great transcontinental electric car race" will pit students from Cal Tech in a converted Volkswagen bus against MIT students in a Chevrolet Corvair.

The teams will race in opposite directions along the same southerly route. The first car to reach the other's campus wins.

Start of the race had been delayed by two postponements requested by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology team to further test their 1968 Corvair.

The performance data gives the MIT car the edge. The Corvair travels up to 60 miles an hour and doesn't need a battery recharge for 100 miles. The microbus has a top speed of 55 miles an hour and must get a recharge every 70 miles.

Time is a main factor in the transcontinental race but Ripple says the main purpose is to "promote and develop technology for an electric vehicle as a means of combating the smog problem."

Africa covers an area of 11.5 million square miles.

Alcoholism Definition Expected From Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The men and women in charge of confining the nation's lawbreakers were told by California's health and welfare chief today "it is inevitable that the courts will hold that alcoholism is a medical rather than a criminal problem."

Spencer Williams, administrator of the State Health and Welfare Agency, told the 98th Congress of Correction that such a decision will be of benefit to the penal field.

"It will deeply cut the more than two million drunk arrests a year that clog local detention facilities," he explained.

He agreed, however, that it also "will create problems in the health and welfare field."

In his prepared remarks, Williams said the task of correction officers is more difficult than ever. The main reason, he said, "is that we have a different breed coming into the system alongside the more traditional offender."

"Their number may be relatively small but they are publicity conscious, action-oriented organizers. They have been demonstrators and organizers of demonstrations. Their code is freedom without responsibility," he declared.

Such people, Williams said, reject the larger society's values and loyalties. "I expect they tend more to think of themselves as prisoners of war than transgressor against society. Or they feel they are persecuted victims of racial injustice.

He told the meeting "we must seek agressively to develop public support; welcome public interest. The public must understand that only with its help can corrections achieve its full potential — its very significant potential in curbing crime."

Lightning Hits Daughter Of Virginia's Governor

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Becky Godwin, 13-year-old daughter of Virginia's governor, remained unconscious today as doctors assessed the full extent of injuries caused when she was struck by lightning on the beach yesterday afternoon.

The slight, brown-haired girl was in "poor" condition at Virginia Beach General Hospital, though doctors early today reported "some encouraging responses to intensive treatment in the last few hours."

Her father, Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., arrived at the hospital last night from Chicago, where Virginia's Democratic National Convention delegation had planned to nominate him as a favorite-son candidate for president.

He was visibly shaken. The governor had been in Chicago only six hours when the accident occurred about 3:30 p.m. First reports informed him his daughter was dead. Then the report was: "extremely critical." He left Chicago immediately.

Becky, the Godwin's adopted only child, had been vacationing with her mother at the governor's seaside cottage on the state military reservation here. Her mother, Katherine, was recuperating from a serious abdominal operation she underwent last week.

An aide at the governor's office in Richmond said Becky had been playing in the surf under the watchful eye of Grady Norfleet, a friend of the Godwins, when storm clouds began to pile up offshore.

The aide said Norfleet and the girl left the water and were standing in sunshine on the beach when a lightning bolt struck, either hitting Becky directly or striking the beach nearby.

Both she and Norfleet were knocked unconscious. Two National Guardsmen nearby saw the bolt strike and ran to their aid. They kept her breathing with artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived.

Norfleet regained consciousness shortly afterward, but was admitted to the hospital for observation. He was not believed seriously injured.

State GOP Zeros In On Unruh

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh stood pinpointed by Gov. Ronald Reagan and the California Republican organization today as their No. 1 target in the fall election.

Reagan made clear at the weekend GOP State Convention that he will do everything he can to carry his state's 40 electoral votes on Nov. 5 for the presidential candidacy of Richard M. Nixon.

But the Republican chief executive stressed even more his intense desire to depose Unruh from his key power position.

Reagan's comments came during the Saturday convention, which was unblemished by any of the intraparty fighting which has occurred in the past.

The convention adopted a state platform which put it on record in general terms as being against crime and riots, in favor of private enterprise and on the side of youth, the old people and everyone in between.

Most of Reagan's speech concentrated on what he has tried to do during nearly two years in office. He complained that while 56 per cent of his legislative program has been enacted, the rest — including many major proposals — has been thwarted by Unruh-led Democrats, mainly in the Assembly.

Democrats hold a 42-38 edge in the lower house, and sit in the major power positions in the Senate, although it is split 20-20 between the two parties.

He said top members of the administration will stump the state in an effort to elect a Republican-dominated legislature that would be certain to dump Unruh as speaker.

Unruh was in Chicago heading the state's delegation to the Democratic convention.

Texas Heart Operation Girl Dies; Two Men Said In Good Condition

COMBINED AP & UPI

Two male heart transplant patients were reported in good condition today, but a five-year-old girl died yesterday a week after receiving a new heart.

Leonard Drake, 42, a retired postal clerk and court bailiff of Engene, Ore., ate a good breakfast and sat in a chair yesterday at the Stanford Medical Center the third day after receiving his new heart.

He was the center's third heart transplant recipient and the world's 33rd.

Louis B. Russell Jr., 43, an Indianapolis, Ind., school teacher, was reported in satisfactory condition yesterday at the Medical College of Virginia Hospital in Richmond.

Russell's transplant Saturday was the world's 34th and the second at the Richmond hospital. The previous patient died in May, one week after the transplant.

Maria Giannaris, 5, of Hagerstown, Md., died at 11:40 p.m. following cardiac arrest, said a spokesman at Texas Heart Institute in Houston.

Maria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick A. Giannaris, received the heart of James Dudley Herron II, who died after suffering a brain hemmorhage. He was the son of Dr. James Dudley Herron, a chemistry professor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

Dr. Grady Hallman said the child's heart stopped suddenly for no apparent reason. Hallman and four others worked for more than an hour applying external heart massage and electric shock in an attempt to restart the heart.

Drake received the heart of Marine Cpl. Larry Smnth, 20, of Stockton, in an operation early Friday.

The patient was visited again by his wife, who said he was "very anxious" to see his two children. She said they would be flown to Stanford from Eugene as soon as arrangements permitted.

While the transplant has been a medical success, it has aroused a controversy about the legality of the operation.

Santa Clara County officials complained that Dr. Norman Shumway, the famed surgeon who headed the transplant team, removed the heart of the donor without first allowing the county coroner to perform an autopsy.

"We'll look into it and see if any laws were broken," said Dist. Atty. Louis F. Bergna, who assigned a man to the case. "Our investigator will decide if charges are necessary."

Shumway and his colleagues have declined comment on the charges but the donor's mother, Mrs. Robert A. Smith, mother of 12 children, blamed the controversy on "a bunch of rotten politicians."

Mrs. Smith said the county officials "ought to leave Dr. Shumway and his good work alone."

The oldest living things on earth are said to be a stand of Bristlecone Pine in the Inyo National Forest in California. Tests show them to be 4,500 years old.

Youth Booked On Drug Probe

A Corte Madera youth escaped processing as an adult violator Friday when arrested by Mill Valley police for investigation of marijuana possession.

The youth became 18 years old that day. Instead of being booked into County Jail, he was taken to Juvenile Hall.

Police said an off-duty officer observed the youth and a 20-year-old companion, Eric S. Tainter of 15 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, passing what appeared to be marijuana shortly after 11 a.m. in Lytton Square on Throckmorton Avenue.

Tainter was booked at county jail for investigation of possession and sale of marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon (pocket knife).

He was held in $3,125 bail for 1:30 p.m. appearance today in Municipal Court.

Newton Still On Stand At His Trial

OAKLAND (AP) — Black Panther Huey Newton, on trial charged with murdering one white policeman and wounding another, Compared himself with Jesus today under persistent prosecution cross - examination.

Questioned about a 1964 knifing for which he served six months and was put on three-year probation, Newton went into a lengthy explanation.

Superior Court Judge Monroe Friedman cut him short and asked, "You were convicted?"

Prosecutor Lowell Jensen, questioning Newton about a black "liberation" speech he made at San Francisco State College Oct. 27 -- the day before the policemen were shot, asked if Newton's program "included executing 'racist' cops."

Newton replied no, but conceded he had said, "Blacks would seek to dominate all institutions, including the police system and court apparatus.

"We would erect our own police force so we could control ourselves."

Prosecutor Jensen said he expected to spend all day, at least, cross-examining Newton, who is charged with killing officer John Frey and wounding officer Herbert Heanes.

Outside the court house, about 50 members of the Black Panthers, the Negro militant group which Newton organized, went through military-type drills, but without guns.

Sonoma County Districts which include some elementary districts in Marin will have the following rates: Petaluma High, $2.45, last year $2.28; Lincoln High, $2.43, last year $2.27, and Sonoma Junior College, .45, last year .42.

The rates in all elementary school districts within Tamalpais and San Rafael High School districts include $1.11 for the area-wide equalization tax, the same as last year, Mitchell reported.

Bail Reduced For Trio Facing Drug Charges

Bail was reduced to $500 apiece Friday for three Sausalito residents charged with possessing and selling marijuana Wednesday in Sausalito.

Municipal Court Judge Hadden W. Roth reduced bail from $2,500 on Leonard Schechtel, 22; from $1,000 on his wife, Vivian S. Schechtel, 20, and from $1,250 on Leonard Model.

The three were arrested in a raid Wednesday night at 207 Woodward Avenue. Roth set a preliminary hearing for the trio at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 3.

Three others arrested in the raid were released Thursday without charges at the request of the district attorney's department. They were Barbara Tedesco, Frederick L. Seda and his wife, Bonnie Seda, all 21.

Czechs Are Harrying Russian-Led Troops

Cierna Nad Tisou, Soviet and Czechoslovak leaders were reported to have papered over their differences—chiefly Kremlin anger and fear over the Czechoslovak eight - month - old drive to mix their communism with democracy.

Radio Free Prague, one of the underground "freedom" stations operating despite Soviet bans in Czechoslovakia, today said also that the Soviet bloc had agreed to pull occupation forces out of Czechoslovakia. The station said the withdrawal would be step by step.

It gave no details.

The reports from the Yugoslavs and Radio Free Prague conflicted with the less optimistic word from the diplomatic sources here.

The sources said the Soviet terms included:

Guarantees the Czechoslovaks will tie their foreign policy closer to Moscow and avoid closer relations with neighboring West Germany.

Slapping censorship back on Czechoslovak newspapers and broadcasting stations and rigidly curbing the activities of non-Communist groups in Czechoslovakia.

Arriving yesterday for the crisis talks in the Kremlin were the Communist leaders of the four bloc nations which followed the Soviets in sending troops into Czechoslovakia. They were Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka, East Germany's Walter Ulbricht, Hungary's Janos Kadar and Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov.

The four were expected to endorse any agreement with the Czechoslovaks that had Soviet approval.

The Free Czech Radio announced that the central committee of the Czechoslovak Communist party, which is loyal to Svoboda and Dubcek, has been called into plenary session to discuss the Moscow negotiations and the current situation in Prague.

An authoritative Yugoslav source said today Yugoslav troops were on the move along the border, adding there were "measures undertaken normally in the situations such as this one, in the region."

The "situation such as this one" relates apparently to deterioration of the situation in the Balkans following the opening of Soviet propaganda attacks on the Romanian and Yugoslav leadership for their policy of opposing military intervention in Czechoslovakia.

A source from Bucharest claimed yesterday that Romanian troops were also moving alongside the Hungarian, Bulgarian and Soviet borders following similar reports about Soviet army unit movements near the Soviet-Romanian border.

Yugoslavia has no border with the Soviet Union but it has frontiers with Romania and Hungary and Bulgaria, two nations joining in the occupation of Czechoslovakia.

Another rebel against Moscow's domination, the Communist government of Romania, was reported to have called for "firm guarantees" from the Soviet Union and its hard-line partners that they would not make Bucharest their next target. Authoritative sources said the regime of President Nicolae Ceausescu had declared that an invasion of the country would be considered an act of war.

Reports circulated in Prague that the Russians were increasing their occupation force considerably. Informed sources said the Soviets also were pulling out some troops and replacing them with others who had not been subjected to the intensive anti-Soviet propaganda directed against the troops who first occupied the Czechoslovak capital and other cities.

The Czechoslovaks were reported resisting the invaders with constant harassment and a stream of radio messages from secret transmitters supporting the liberal leaders.

Underground radio broadcasts said more cars and buses painted with anti-Soviet slogans and pictures of Dubcek and Svoboda were being attacked and crushed by tanks.

The Prague government ordered its Foreign Ministry to protest to the embassies of the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Bulgaria and Hungary, the five invaders.

Liberal Czechoslovak leaders warned their people not to take the law into their own hands against countrymen collaborating with the Russians. The warning by Interior Minister Josef Pavel was in line with the policy of nonviolence that the Czechoslovak leaders have been espousing since Soviet bloc troops overran the country last Tuesday.

Posters threatening "death to collaborators" have been cropping up in Prague streets. Officials are worried that popular resentment might explode into a wave of lynchings like the one that accompanied the Hungarian uprising in 1956.

Czechoslovaks today staged a 15 minute general strike to protest the week-long occupation by Soviet bloc forces. In Prague's main square they drowned out with jeers Russian loudspeaker commands for obedience.

Three armed Soviet soldiers entered the U.S. Embassy grounds today but reluctantly obeyed Ambassador Jacob Beam's order to leave.

Beam ordered the American flag hoisted after the Russians were spotted picking apples in the embassy garden and then climing to a lookout tower on top of a summer house in the garden.

Preliminary investigation by William Sherman and Associates, golf course consultants, indicates the golf course could be operated on a lower fee basis than any now in the county and still retire the bonds with a profit, according to City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen. Earnings from the heliport would be in addition.

The heliport would require only a little over two acres adjacent to parking which would serve it and the 150-acre golf course as well, Andersen said. The proposed location is where the Smith Ranch dairy barns now stand. The Smith Brothers, owners of the ranch, plan to close out the dairy operation early next year.

The land is now in unincorporated area but abuts Northgate Industrial Park, which is within the city. It would be annexed to the city before development. Annexation as uninhabited land would require only the application of the owners (who were reported as agreeable), approval by the city council (which has already given a go-ahead for completing the plans), and authorization by the Local Agency Formation Commission.

Dan Coleman and Associates, Greenbrae engineering firm, is to present plans for the development to the city council next month. A golf course architect, Jack Fleming, has been engaged by the firm to assist.

The plan by the three businessmen, working closely with the city government, may make unnecessary a heliport location study under way by the Marin County Planning Department.

In March, the Marin County Aviation Commission asked the planning department to determine the proper location for a heliport near the Civic Center.

This "is in study," according to Planning Director Paul C. Zucker, but a recommendation will not be made until after approval of a new master plan for the Civic Center. Public hearing on that plan — which may include expansion of the Civic Center-Fairgrounds to land not yet owned by the county — is scheduled for Sept. 11, Zucker said.

Public Works Director Frost said he and an SFO representative found three suitable sites for the heliport: that which is included in the Chapman-Schwartz-Collins plan, land between the Civic Center and Scetrini's hill to the north, and land on the Smith Ranch property near the present privately operated small plane strip north of Gallinas Creek.

A site on present Civic Center property was deemed too close to government and residential buildings, Frost said.

Patrol Car Collision Injures Five

Five persons were injured yesterday when a California Highway Patrol car, with flashing light an siren going, hit a car broadside at Olive Avenue and Highway 101 in Novato.

Patrolman Glenn Claybourne Morris, 30, of Petaluma, was carrying a diabetic patient to Novato General Hospital at 4:20 p.m. As he neared the Olive Avenue intersection, the highway patrol said, a car driven by Lesslie F. Bender Jr., 18, of 3 Simmons Court, Novato, started across the intersection. The patrol car hit Bender's car. A camper bus driven by Stanford V. Smalley, 38, of Palos Verdes Estates, then hit Bender's car in a second impact.

The disbetic patient, Mrs. Byne Crawford, 45, of Santa Rosa, and another passenger in the patrol car, Bruce Bunting, 15, of Santa Rosa, were treated at Novato General Hospital. Mrs. Crawford had cuts on both legs and Bunting had a scraped left arm and elbow.

Smalley's wife and two infant children received minor injuries and were to see their own physician.

CRIME

cerned with a pattern that has emerged linking youth with violence, particularly in the large, metropolitan areas. And the long-time FBI head made what has become almost an annual appeal "for greater social action to prevent and abort more careers in crime."

More than 3.8 million serious crimes were reported during 1967, 494,000 of them crimes of a violent nature, Hoover said.

A summary of the statistics for 1967 compared with 1966 showed these trends:

Crimes of violence increased 16 per cent, the same as the incidence of all serious crime.

Firearms were used in 63 per cent of all homicides, a 17 per cent increase over 1966. There were 11 per cent more murders in 1967 than in the previous year.

Narcotics arrests up 60 per cent, attributed largely to an increase in marijuana cases.

Police solutions of serious crimes, down 8 per cent.

Ouster Rumors Are Denied By Secretary

Paul R. Hearle, a former Marin resident and current appointments secretary to Gov. Ronald Reagan, today denied rumors that he is about to be eased out of his $20,000-a-year job.

"I have no intention of leaving nor has it been suggested in any way that I do so," he told the Independent-Journal.

It was rumored that the 36-year-old attorney had fallen into disfavor with top advisers to the governor during Reagan's try for the presidential nomination in Miami Beach.

Formerly of Santa Venetia, Haerle replaced Thomas G. Reed of Ross as appointments secretary in April of 1967. He has served as president of the Marin Republican Council and as chairman of the Marin County Reagan for Governor Committee in 1966.

Parking Lot Land Talk Set

A report on negotiations concerning acquisition by Marin General Hospital District of 5.5 acres across from the hospital from the Archdiocese of San Francisco for a parking lot will be submitted to district directors tomorrow.

Directors will meet for dinner at 6 p.m. in the hospital cafeteria and continue the meeting at 7 p.m. in the Coral Room of the hospital.

Also on the agenda are a personnel committee report on salaries and a response from the state Department of Public Health to an inquiry concerning the possibility of slides from land above the community mental health center.

Purse Snatched From Woman

Two thieves stole a Sausalito's woman's purse yesterday as she was walking along Caledonia Street near Turney Street, Sausalito police reported.

Mrs. Lynn Ann Metzger of 12 Rose Court said two men came up behind her as she was walking with a friend at midnight and grabbed her purse. The purse contained $20 in cash and identification cards, police said.

SCHOOLS

expected to hear a report on the middle school program by George Yertson, principal of the Santa Venetia Middle School.

Yertson and othe principals were also at the Saturday meeting to discuss the proposed Glenwood Middle School.

The board Saturday committed itself to the middle school proposition and asked for a total plan of development of the Glenwood facility for a minimum of 600 students and a maximum of 900.

Under present plans, the general use rooms would be built first as far as money is available and portable classrooms would be used until additional funds are on hand.

The board indicated it favored going for a bond issue, perhaps some time next year, to save on construction costs, but no definite decision was reached.

Jones recommended moving now to establish a cadre of teachers who would form the nucleus at the new sixth, seventh and eighth grade facility.

He urged they be included in planning sessions and trained, if necessary in the operation of the new school.

Dr. Aubrey Hahn, educational consultant from San Francisco, who helped develop the planned Mill Valley middle school, agreed.

He outlined the general theory of middle schools, but emphasized that there are no definite rules. Instead, he explained, each middle school should be designed for the needs and desires of its students, staff and district.

Architect Bowles, said district teachers had indicated they preferred combining only certain subjects, such as math and science, rather than total integration.

Jones disagreed: "The more interrelationship we can have and the longer we can keep it, it would seem to me we have a better chance of a more well rounded person . . . so he will be better able to choose his own direction."

The board also agreed to ask the architects to rework plans for Short Elementary School to replace the present facility which has been declared unsafe under state earthquake standards.

Plans presented earlier this month called for four new rooms, but the board agreed to try for six to exactly replace existing facilities.

The board also asked that the plans be developed for ungraded primary situation.

Tomorrow night, the board will also consider appointment of a citizen committee for 1968-69; awarding contracts for site development at Glenwood Middle School; and instituting legal action with other agencies of Marin County to recover illegal overcharges on book sales.

Protesters Are Suspended

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's Department of Social Service has suspended 21 workers who staged a sit-in at the general manager's office last Tuesday.

The suspensions for "insubordination and inattention to duties" are without pay and range up to 10 days, said Charles Strom, spokesman for the Social Service Employes Union.

The union said the sit-in was the result of the department's refusal to give information "on long standing problems" of community and social service workers.

Belvedere City Truck Radio Is Removed

A radio was taken from a pickup truck belonging to the City of Belvedere sometime between 5 p.m. Friday and 6:30 a.m. today, Belvedere police reported.

Police said the thieves forced open a side vent window to break into the locked truck which was parked in the city of Belvedere's corporation yard at 85 Lagoon Road.

OBITUARIES

Charles Cowley Dies At 64

Funeral for Charles (Chick) Cowley, a 25-year San Rafael resident, will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Brusie Funeral Home, 626 Broadway, Chico. Burial will be at Glen Oaks Memorial Park, Chico.

Cowley, who operated a dry cleaning business in San Rafael until his retirement a year ago, moved to Chico where he died Saturday in a local hospital after a short illness. He was 64.

He was a native of New Hampshire.

He is survived by a daughter, Chicki Funk of Chico; two brothers, William A. Cowley of San Francisco and John F. Cowley of Clarksdale, Ariz., and a sister, Dorris Cory of Santa Ana.

LOUIS WOELFL

Louis Woelfl, retired railroad gardener who lived in Marin City since 1913, died today at a San Francisco hospital, after a brief illness.

Woelfl, 86, had been a gardener with Northwestern Pacific Railroad until the firm eliminated its gardens. He then became a carpenter for the railroad until his retirement in 1947. He worked privately as a gardener until 1951.

A native of Germany, he came to California in 1910 and lived in Oakland for three years before moving to Marin. He lived at 233 C Street with his wife of 58 years, Rosa Woelfl.

He was a member of Marin Lodge 200 of the Indepdent Order of Odd Fellows; Grand Lodge of Forresters of America and Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112, San Rafael.

Survivors are his wife; two daughters, Marie Woelfl of San Rafael and Mrs. Margaret Selvy of Modesto; two granchildren and one great-grandchild.

GARY PARK

Gary Park, 22, a Novato resident for almost 13 years, died unexpectedly early today at a local hospital.

Richard W. Madigan, deputy coroner, said death appeared due to natural causes, but an autopsy is scheduled.

Park was born with a rare congenital heart condition and had partial surgical correction when he was 15, according to the coroner's report.

A graduate of Novato High School, Park had attended College of Marin and was employed at the Plaza Pharmacy in Novato. He lived at 230 Calle De La Selva.

Survivors are his father, John C. Park, who is with Novato Pharmacy; his mother; and a brother, David, 19, all of the home in Novato.

STELLA M. BACICH

Requiem Mass for Stella M. Bacich, mother of Kentfield School District Supt. Anthony G. Bacich, was today at St. Leander's Church in San Leandro. Entombment was at Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum in Oakland.

Mrs. Bacich, 72, died unexpectedly Thursday at a San Leandro hospital.

Born and reared in San Francisco, she had lived in Oakland the past 50 years. Her husband, the late Anthony M. Bacich, a railroad inspector, died in 1945.

Also surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Williams of Alameda; a son, John Bacich of Oakland; nine grandchildren; one great-grandchild, and two sisters, Flora Puhalovic and Katherine Lipanovich, both of Oakland.

MRS. MADELINE LAHARGOUE

Madeline Lahargoue, longtime San Rafael resident, died in a Palo Alto hospital yesterday after a long illness. She was 82.

A native of Esquiule, France, Mrs. Lahargoue came to the United States 42 years ago and settled in Marin County. Her home was at 519 C Street, San Rafael.

She is survived by three sons, John Casalet of Mountain View, and Leon and John Lahargoue of San Rafael; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Paul of San Francisco and Anna Toussau of France; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Keaton Chapel. Requiem mass will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. at St. Rafael's Church in San Rafael.

ALBERT GUMZ

Albert H. Gumz, a retired insurance broker, died yesterday at his home at 24 Forbes Avenue, San Anselmo, after a short illness. He was 88.

A native of Superior, Wis., he had lived in California for 21 years and in Marin for 15 years. He was a member of Superior Wisconsin Lodge Number 236, Free and Accepted Masons and St. John's Episcopal Church, Ross.

He is survived by a daughter, Marian E. Gumz of San Anselmo, and a son, Robert F. Gumz of Lucas, Ohio, and four grandchildren.

Funeral and burial will be in Lucas, Ohio.

MYRTIS COPESTICK

Myrtis G. Copestick of Mill Valley died yesterday at a local hospital following a long illness. She was 61.

A native of Port Orchard, Wash., Mrs. Copestick and her husband, Harry C. Copestick, a retired Greyhound bus driver, moved to California 32 years ago and to Mill Valley 26 years ago. They have lived at 271 Miller Avenue for the past 21 years.

Mrs. Copestick had been employed as an accountant with Crown Zellerbach Corp. in San Francisco for 25 years until she became ill last year.

She was an active member of the Mill Valley Chapter No. 219, Order of the Eastern Star, the Gravander Spinners, the Tamalpais Hand Weavers Guild, the Northern California Handweavers Association and the Marin County Lapidary Club. She was in charge of the commercial exhibits at the last two conventions of the Northern California Handweavers Association in San Francisco.

She is survived by her husband and a brother, Wilbur Gorst of Coos Bay, Ore.

Funeral will be held ot 10 a.m. Thursday at the Memorial Chapels of Russell and Gooch, Mill Valley, under the auspices of the Mill Valley Chapter 219, Order of Eastern Star. Inurnment will be private. Friends may call at the chapel after 3 p.m. tomorrow.

MRS. BEATRICE M. WAIDHAAS

Funeral for Beatrice M. Waidhaas, 73, of San Francisco, will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Anderson's Mortuary, Valencia and 25th streets, San Francisco. Inurnment will be at Woodlawn Memorial Park, Colma.

Mrs. Waidhaas was the sister of Charles F. Schneider, retired railroad man of Larkspur, and aunt of Phillip W. Schneider, Sausalito School District superintendent.

She was found dead at her home Saturday. The San Francisco coroner attributed death to natural causes. Mrs. Waidhaas, a lifelong resident of San Francisco, was retired after spending 40 years as a clerk with the Zurich Insurance Company.

She is also survived by another brother, Joseph H. Schneider of San Francisco. The family prefers contributions to the memorial fund of Ocean Avenue Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, or to the donor's favorite charity.

dates remained constant. The Associated Press, basing its count on primary results, public pledges, checks with delegates and caucuses, gave this standing in mid-morning:

Humphrey 889;

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy: 177¼

McGovern 37½

Favorite sons 419½

Others 13.

Uncommitted 785¾

California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, heading the 174-vote delegation won by the late Robert F. Kennedy, said it would be difficult for him to support Humphrey, but added it would be impossible for the group to band unanimously behind any one candidate.

Humphrey's supporters seemed to make up some of this contested ground with the forecast by Frank P. O'Conner, head of the New York City Council, that the vice president will get about 100 of his state's 190 votes on the first ballot.

The convention began clearing away the preliminaries tonight in an atmosphere of a maximum security stockade at the Stockyards International Amphitheatre.

Delegates and alternates were outnumbered by troops 4-to-1.

Bel Marin Votes Tomorrow On Tax

Voters in Bel Marin Keys Community Service District will cast ballots tomorrow on whether to increase the maximum tax rate from $1 to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation to raise money to dredge the community lagoon and channel.

The polling place at the Community Center at 4 Montego Key will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., according to Asst. County Elections Officer Peter Meyer.

Early opposition to the tax increase from residents living on the Novato Creek Waterway apparently died down when they learned the dredging fund would include money to be used in dredging the creek at a later date.

The increase requires a simple majority for approval and would take effect this fiscal year, Meyer said.

Mrs. Ralph Zoeller, board secretary, said the board has asked the increase in order to accumulate tax money not going for district operating expenses in a dredging fund.

The 1967-68 tax rate was 63 cents and the board estimates, in arguments mailed to voters, that 65 cents is needed for its annual operating expenses.

If a $1.25 tax rate were levied in 1968-69, it would raise $43,872, according to the county auditor's office. Of this, with the proposed operating budget standing at $15,530, the remainder, $27,342, could be put in the dredging fund.

Cost of dredging the lagoon has been estimated at $64,000, Mrs. Zoeller said.

Already in the dredging fund is a surplus of $20,000, she said, including $16,000 for dredging the lagoon and $4,000 for Novato Creek.

"Even if the bond election is successful, it will be several years before the district has money enough to solve the lagoon and channel silting problem," Mrs. Zoeller said.

The district cannot dredge the Novato Creek Waterway at this time because it is in the jurisdiction of the Army Corps of Engineers and the Marin County Flood Control District, she said, and the district cannot spend money on projects outside its jurisdiction.

She said the board is trying to eliminate this legal block and "will keep a proportionate amount of the money for dredging the Novato Creek Waterway when the legal means to do it has been solved."

Sample ballots were not mailed out to the 270 registered voters until last Tuesday because the period for filing opposing arguments did not close until 5 p.m. last Monday, Meyer said.

No one filed arguments against the increase, he said. The argument supporting it was submitted by the district's directors.

New commander

Hamilton Getting New Commander

Maj. Gen. Robert W. Burns, a 29-year military veteran, will take over command Friday of the Fourth Air Force headquartered at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Burns succeeds Maj. Gen. Carroll W. McColpin, who is retiring after 28 years of service.

A native of Nettleton, Miss., Burns was commissioned through the Army Air Corps' cadet program in 1939. He flew 24 combat missions in B-17 bombers over Europe during World War II and has served three tours with the Aerospace Defense Command.

The command change will take place in ceremonies on the base flight line at 4:30 p.m., featuring a flyby of the aircraft assigned to the Fourth Air Force.

Boys Derail Skunk Train; Four Injured

FORT BRAGG (UPI — Two boys were responsible for the Saturday derailment of the diesel Skunk train in which four persons were injured, according to Mendocino County sheriff's deputies.

The youths, aged 10 and 12, yesterday admitted they used rocks to break the padlock on the switch at Glen Blair Junction and then threw the switch which diverted the tour train loaded with 61 passengers onto a side track. The train plunged over an embankment into a creek.

Three women and a young girl sustained minor injuries and were treated at a local hospital.

The boys were released to the custody of their parents after questioning by sheriff's officers.

Fifty-nine passengers and two crewmen were aboard the famed yellow, one-car train when it hit the open switch, crashed through a pile of railroad ties and toppled into Pudding Creek.

As of January, 1967, there were 33 National Parks in the United States.

New Style Hippies Battle In Berkeley

BERKELEY (UPI) — Telegraph Avenue hippies are waging a revolutionary campaign to turn America's original dropout colony into a national shrine.

The battlefield is a four block stretch of commercial property located just a textbook's throw from the University of California, an institution that has itself fallen victim to two bitter student protests.

Although Berkeley's hippies have long received limited support from some elements of the university community, a new coalition with leftists on the Berkeley campus is waging the present campaign.

The result—the "third battle of Berkeley," an all out attempt to "liberate" the street, establish it as immune from city control and utilize it as an exclusive playground for the hippies and their friends.

"We're going to raise enough hell in this town to demonstrate our power to take control," claim the youthful editors of the "Barricade Bullet," an underground newsletter circulated throughout the hippie enclave. They also promise "total and popular seizure of the university grounds and machinery for our own human needs and fulfillments."

The first big skirmish came last month when hundreds of the beard and sandal set joined with their "new left" friends to battle police in three days of bloody rioting over the issue of whether to close the street for a rally in sympathy with French students.

At least 134 persons were arrested, 45 injured and up to 600 police patrolled a city under curfew.

Emotions were also heightened by a suggestion from Mayor Wallace Johnson to construct a mall along the avenue. Wallace's plan would wipe out three coffee houses, a pool hall, a book store, a hippie clothing store and other favorite hangouts.

"He's trying to redevelop us out of existence," said one long-haired girl. "We use all these shops."

The "Barricade Bullet" was less reserved.

"The pigs, the University of California, Wallace Johnson and assorted merchants have formed an unholy alliance to clean up the south campus area," the newsletter said. "They are using the devices at their disposal. We must use ours . . . direct action: u name it."

Perhaps the most effective "u name it" weapon devised so far is the "hiding whistle," a police type whistle which dozens of volunteers blow vigorously whenever police arrive.

Hitchhiker Murder Trial Opening Today In Florida

I-J Special Report

Bunnell, Fla. — The first-degree muder trial of Kit Armin Hayden was to open today in northeast Florida where he is accused of killing a vacationing college student in a double slaying which also took the life of James Moore, 18, of San Anselmo.

Hayden, 21-year-old hitchhiker from Baton Rouge, La., is charged with shooting Daniel E. Shoultz, 19, of Soisberry, Ind., in the head with a .25-caliber pistol and leaving his body beside U.S. 1 about 23 miles north of Daytona Beach.

Police believe that Shoultz and his companion, Moore, who had been shot three times with a .38-caliber pistol, were killed about dawn on Nov. 29, 1967. The bodies were discovered about noon.

Norman Grant Garrett, 27, of Burns, Ore., was indicted for the murder in Moore's death.

Garrett was arrested in Lexington, Okla., his attorney demanded a psychiatric examination for him, and he has not been arraigned nor a trial date set.

She was arrested in New Orleans, returned here and released under $500 bond.

Hayden was arrested last Dec. 3 after he stepped off a bus in Baton Rouge, where he had gone to celebrate his 21st birthday.

Circuit Judge W. R. Wadsworth will preside.

Murder Trial Jury Being Selected

SAN JOSE (AP) — With the prosecution and defense each armed with 30 unused peremptory challenges, jury selection resumed today in the murder trial of two Ritzville, Wash., youths.

Leonard E. Maine and Thomas Braun, both 20, are accused of killing a Ukiah youth and trying to kill his girl friend.

Although seven women and five men were seated tentatively before court recessed last Thursday, attorneys said they expected the jury selection process to take most of this four-day court week.

Maine and Brown are accused of the execution-style murder of Timothy Luce, 17, in a vineyard near Ukiah on Aug. 21, 1967. They also are charged with kidnaping, raping and murderously assaulting his companion, Susan Bartolomei.

Living on despite five bullets fired into her head and neck, the 18-year-old girl still is almost totally paralyzed.

Tax Change Debate Set

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Proposition 9, the controversial Watson initiative on the November ballot, will be debated during a meeting of county supervisors in Sacramento this week.

Los Angeles County Assessor Philip E. Watson, co-sponsor of the property tax limit initiative, will participate in the panel discussion Thursday morning.

Others on the panel will be Robert C. Brown, executive vice president of the California Taxpayers' Association; Ventura County Supervisor Daniel G. Grant; and Richard Carpenter, executive director of the Leauge of California Cities.

The discussion will be part of a series of meetings being held by the County Supervisors Association of California.

The supervisors will hear a report on the 1968 legislature and will make recommendations to Gov. Ronald Reagan on a special session of the Legislature opening Sept. 9.

The proposed Watson initiative would limit property tax levies to one per cent of market value and phase out the use of property tax revenues for schools and welfare.

Appeal Bail Continued In Drug Case

Darren Guy Erlin has won continuation of freedom on $5,000 bail after attempts to take the former Fairfax man into federal custody failed.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter refused bail revocation in a hearing Thursday.

If the court had revoked bail set in May when Erlin appealed a conviction for selling $700 worth of LSD, he would have gone into federal custody.

Jerrold Larar, cheif of the criminal division of the U.S. Attorney's office in San Francisco, requested the bail revocation on the grounds that Erlin has failed to pursue the appeal on the conviction.

The federal LSD conviction in May resulted in a two-year jail sentence.

Erlin is scheduled to begin trial for possession of heroin and three marijuana charges in Marin Superior Court on Sept. 10, while Mrs. Erlin's trial will begin Sept. 3. The co-defendants, Gilbert Rance Dart and John Floyd Lindley, are scheduled to appear on Oct. 14. Narcotics agents reportedly seized 300 pounds of marijuana at Erlin's Fairfax home March 23.

Stolen Car Is Recovered

A car with its lights turned off was noted driving on a construction service road in Larkspur early today, but by the time officers reached it, the driver was gone, police said. The motor was still running.

Police reported finding a syringe kit and a newspaper rack believed stolen from Safeway in the car.

Officers said the vehicle had been reported stolen in Corte Madera shortly before it was found at 3 a.m. in Larkspur.

Bombers, Troops Lift Forces Camp Seige

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. B52 bombers and 1,500 South Vietnamese reinforcements today lifted the siege of a U.S. Special Forces camp half overrun by soldiers from the same North Vietnamese division that besieged Khe Sanh in January.

American military sources said remnants of the 2,000-man Communist force that attacked the Duc Lap Green Beret camp Thursday had dissolved their encirclement and were fleeing, apparently to Cambodia four miles away.

Duc Lap, manned by about 25 Green Berets and 400 Vietnamese mercenaries, lies astride a Communist infiltration route from Cambodia into South Vietnam's central highlands. It is 125 miles northeast of Saigon in heavily jungled mountains.

Driven out of the camp yesterday by South Vietnamese reinforcements and battered by nine waves of B52 bombers, the Communists left behind 628 dead.

Officially, two American and 23 South Vietnamese defenders were killed, with four Americans and 29 Vietnamese wounded. But sources at the scene said at least six U.S. Green Berets and 50 Vietnamese mercenaries died in the four-day battle.

Nine waves of B52 bombers dropped nearly three million pounds of bombs on the Communist positions, some of them within 1,000 yards of the outpost, recalling the close-in use of the big bombers at Khe Sanh.

Unable to relieve the outpost by helicopter because of the heavy ground fire, South Vietnamese soldiers fought their way in from a nearby artillery post and rescued the base Sunday.

Smashing Communist thrusts across South Vietnam, allied forces killed more than 1,000 of the enemy today and yesterday and raised their toll to more than 6,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese dead in the past eight days, military spokesmen reported today.

Two more American planes were reported lost in attacks on North Vietnam.

These losses raised to 885 the number of U.S. warplanes reported downed over the North in the three and one-half-year bombing campaign.

Farther south along the Cambodian border near the provincial capital of Tay Ninh city, 45 miles northwest of Saigon, enemy gunners zeroed in on another Green Beret camp today. The gunners hurled more than 200 rounds of rockets and mortars at the Ben Soi Special Forces camp then launched a ground probe at its 500 or so defenders.

Burglars Get Ring, Pistol, Cash, Liquor

Three burglaries, including one in which the value of the loot was estimated at more than $250, were reported to San Rafael Police today.

William K. Freeman, 260 Canal Street, told police a burglar who apparently had a key to his partment took a $100 portable television, a gold wedding band, a .22 caliber luger pistol worth $40, a $40 bottle of champagne, a collector's one dollar bill worth $50, and $2 in change from piggy banks and dresser drawers sometime between 4 p.m. Wednesday and 11 p.m. Saturday.

Taken in a burglary at the home of John M. Pattalochi of 109 Trellis Drive, San Rafael, was approximately $100 in coins and currency contained in a pen display case and two coin containers. Police said someone pried open a bedroom window between 1 p.m. and 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

Edward G. O'Connor of 957 Las Pavadas Drive, San Rafael, said a burglar took two half dollars and a $20 woman's wristwatch from his home after breaking a bedroom window with a blunt instrument on Aug. 18 while he was on vacation.

Andrew Jackson's father died a few days before he was born.

U.S. Anti-War Push Is Hanoi Chiefs Hope

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam today charged President Johnson with refusing to "listen to reason" and made a veiled appeal to Americans to pressure Washington to end the war in Vietnam.

The charge was made by Nguyen Thanh Le, chief spokesman for the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris talks, on the eve of the opening of the Democratic Party convention in Chicago.

Le declined to acknowledge that his statement was timed to coincide with the convention at which the Democrats will name the party's candidate in the presidential elections this fall.

He accused the Johnson administration with closing its ears "to reason" and ignoring "the large sectors of the American people who oppose the war."

He mocked Johnson's statement Aug. 19 that the United States was seeking an "honorable peace."

Under Johnson, Le said, the honor of the United States "consists of committing aggression in Vietnam...bombing churches, pagodas, hospitals. ..and pursuing a policy which consists of burning all, destroying all, massacring all..."

"The honor of the United States demands that it put an end to the war, first stopping all bombing and other acts."

Fire Nearing Wilderness Forests

GLENDORA (AP) — A raging fire that claimed eight lives and charred thousands of acres of brush and timber in Angeles National Forest threatened today to engulf a large portion of the San Gabriel Wilderness Area.

Flames have blackened more than 18,000 acres along a 32-mile perimeter 30 miles northeast of Los Angeles since Friday.

Sixty juveniles from probation camps, whose use as fire fighters drew protests from their families and county officials, were removed from the 500-man force yesterday for a rest break, the U.S. Forest Service said.

Of the cause of the fire, a U.S. Forest Service spokesman said: "There are only two causes of forest fires — men and lightning. And there was no lightning."

After seven young firefighters and one adult were killed, some parents and public officials complained about the use of teen-age volunteers from Los Angeles County probation camps on the fire lines.

Dormitory, Pool Approved For Blind

A new dormitory and a 20-by-40-foot swimming pool for Guide Dogs for the Blind Inc. North of San Rafael were approved this morning by Marin County Planning Commissioners.

The student dormitory building for 32 blind persons and a pool for their use will be located on the south side of the 11-acre guide dog property, on Los Ranchitos Road just south of Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Two residents who live next to the guide dog property said they fear noise from the pool and from the dogs which will accompany the students in the dormitory.

Richard Olmsted, architect for the guide dogs, assured the planning commissioners that only blind students would use the pool, and the dogs will not be allowed to run outside the dormitory.

The dormitory and pool were approved unanimously on a motion by Dr. William F. Upton and a second by Margaret Azevedo. The commissioners also voted to require a sound barrier between the pool area and the homes to the south.

Commissioner Michael Praszker presided at the county planning commission meeting today, in the absence of Chairman Hugh Doughtery.

The commissioners also approved a land division for Mr. and Mrs. James W. Lockhart, who own 94 acres on Balboa Road in Inverness Park.

Attorney Charles W. Pierce, representing the Lockarts, said the owners merely want to sell 6.5 acres for one building site and see no need for dedication of a 50-foot right of way, as recommended by the planning staff.

The planning commissioners decided that the 50-foot right of way would remain a private easement owned by the present owners and would apply only to the portion of the road fronting the 6.5 acres to be sold, not to the entire roading running through the Lockhart property. Furthermore, no paving improvements would be required now.

Yearbook Party Set For Novato Students

The annual yearbook party for Novato High School will be Friday night at the cafeteria at the high school according to Jon Michael Gragg, faculty advisor.

Seniors may pick up their yearbooks from 6 to 7 p.m. All other students may get theirs from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Gragg said. No student may pick up a book for a friend unless he has a note signed by the friend and countersigned by Gragg, he said.

Injured Boy Is Reported 'Improved'

Larry Fulkerson, 9-year-old Novato boy who was injured in a bicycle-truck accident Friday, was reported "much improved" and in satisfactory condition at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco today.

Fulkerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Fulkerson of 2 San Benito Way, was thrown some 25 feet off his bicycle onto the street in front of 51 San Carlos Way in Novato, police said.

Police reported the boy lay waiting for 27 minutes for an abulance to arrive from San Rafael.

Doctor's Ambulance, which made the run from San Rafael, today claimed the actual time was 19 minutes. A check with Marin County Communications Center, however, put the time at 21 minutes.

The delay stemmed from the abandonment of ambulance service Aug. 1 by Novato Ambulance Co. The board of supervisors on Aug. 1 agreed to seek competitive bids on service to the county, but no further action has been taken.

On Saturday, Dan White, assistant manager for the ambulance company, reportedly blamed the board of supervisors for the lack of rapid ambulance service to the Novato area.

However, Kenneth Hale, manager of Doctor's Ambulance, said today that is not the case. "The supervisors have done everything in their power."

He blamed the county administrator for the delay, noting it is the administrator's office that prepares bid specifications.

Driver Injured

Barbara Jean Doyle, 36, of 1209 Chase Street, Novato, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut lip early yesterday after her car went into a ditch at 2:25 a.m. and hit a cyclone fence on Highway 101 in Novato, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Collision Hurts Driver

Scott Eugene O'Brien, 21, of Santa Rosa, was treated at Novato General Hospital yesterday for a scraped forehead and bruised right knee and left arm after a two-car collision on Highway 101 in Novato.

The California Highway Patrol said O'Brien was driving south in heavy traffic at 5:10 p.m. when his car struck the rear of a car driven by Ronald Frank Rinna, 18, of San Lorenzo.

O'Brien was cited for following too closely.

Wallace And Family Stump In Disneyland

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace took a break from presidential campaigning today, resting with his family at an oceanside hotel.

The American Independent Party leader is to address a rally in Long Beach tonight then fly to Phoenix, Ariz., where he will meet with Navajo Indian leaders and give a speech.

Yesterday Wallace took his family to Disneyland at Anaheim to celebrate his 49th birthday.

He shook hands with several persons in the crowd, some of whom were Negro.

"I'll bet that kind of surprises you, doesn't it, that all these people say they're going to vote for me," Wallace told newsmen.

With him were his daughters, Lee, 7, and Barbara, 26, and his son-in-law, James Parsons of Birmingham Ala.

It was a day of ease for Wallace, who predicted his name would appear on the ballots of 43 states in the November presidential election.

He told about 300 persons in Long Beach, on Saturday that he is consulting with advisers on a legal way to choose a running mate. He said he was not certain whether the American Independent Party should hold a nominating convention.

Wallace has campaigned hard on a "law and order" theme on the West Coast.

Before 300 partisans Saturday night, he accused the Johnson administration of coddling "militants, activists, anarchists, revolutionaries and communists who make it unsafe for decent folk to walk the streets."

Disturbing Peace Charged After Fight

Three men were arrested Saturday night on suspicion of assault, battery and disturbing the peace after a fight at a San Rafael apartment building involving five men.

William Van Der Ploeg, 26, The Alameda, San Anselmo; Paul F. Haun of 1 Frederick Court, San Rafael; and Steven B. Bednarz, 25, of Rohnert Park were placed under citizen's arrest by Alfred D. Rowland, 27, of 157 Canal Street, San Rafael, and turned over to San Rafael police.

They were freed after posting $565 bail each and were to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Rowland told police the three suspects attempted to force entry to his residence and that he and Robert A. Kempka, 29, tried to keep them out.

None of the persons involved in the incident reported injuries.

Car Looted

Stereo tapes and two microphones valued at $140 were stolen from the car belonging to Robert E. Blake of 1931 Fifth Street, San Rafael, while it was parked at the Gate 6 parking lot on Richardson Bay late Saturday night, the sheriff's office said today. Deputies said there was no sign of forced entry.

School Tax Drop Predicted

The San Anselmo School District Board, meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the Red Hill School library, will hear from Supt. Stephen Parodi an estimate that district's total tax rate this year will drop 11 or 12 cents.

The district's operating tax, which the school board actually sets, will remain the same, at $2.25, Parodi said. The total tax, which includes some state set overrides, will drop from $3.415 to $3.30 or $3.295, he predicted.

The board will also be asked to join other districts in an antitrust suit against publishers of children's books.

Suspects Are Held In Prowling

Two youths were arrested for investigation of prowling last night after a San Rafael resident said they had attempted to break into her home.

Police said Dianna D. Clayton of 10 Glen Avenue was holding a 19-year-old suspect at gunpoint when they arrived and that they later picked up a 14-year-old San Anselmo boy identified as also involved in the attempt.

Donald R. Hurd, 19, of 1614 Lincoln Avenue, was booked at County Jail on suspicion of prowling. He was freed on bail and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow. The 14-year-old was taken to Juvenile Hall.

Mrs. Clayton said her daughter had screamed that someone was entering her bedroom shortly before 11 p.m. and that she had stopped the suspect and held him at gunpoint.

Reagan Vetoes Primaries Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan anounced today he has vetoed a bill designed to open California's presidential primary elections to all nationally recognized candidates, such as in Oregon.

Reagan, who was the only Republican on this year's GOP primary ballot, said the new type of primary would add "nothing to the democratic process" and would "tend to divide and splinter our major political parties."

A Hike On Mount Tamalpais Shows Beauty Of Marin

New Trail Shows Mountain Beauty

There's a new, very unofficial trail on Mount Tamalpais.

For hikers who have walked all sides of the mountain, mainly on lands of the Marin Municipal Water District, finding a new trail is akin to discovering gold, and almost as precious a find.

This trail, appearing newly cut with its rough edges and still narrow and relatively untrod, extends for about a mile and a half from Cataract Trail near Laurel Dell northeast to the Kent Trail. It angles across a steep meadowed hillside, through manzanita, past rather rare clumps of western yew. It passes the High Swamp, now dry and ghostlike in summer drought, and overlooks Alpine Lake.

Georgia Issue Hangs Heavy Over Demo Heads

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey, Credentials Committee chairman, said the credentials report may be presented tonight, triggering expected battles over a bitter contest between two contesting Georgia delegations and seating squabbles involving other states.

Meanwhile, peacemakers tried to persuade Gov. Lester G. Maddox's supporters to sit alongside an integrated group of insurgents to avert a floor fight over the makeup of the Georgia delegation.

The governor himself resigned from the delegation to devote full time to his presidential candidacy.

Hughes, who presided through the lengthy Credentials Committee sessions last week, said National Chairman John M. Bailey suggested moving the report up one night from tomorrow because of "the great volume of work before the convention."

The New Jersey governor said the report would probably be delivered after Sen. Daniel K. Inouye's keynote speech.

PLATFORM

CHICAGO (AP) — Last-minute efforts to compromise the deep Democratic disagreements over a Vietnam platform plank were launched today.

But the outlook was that the platform writers, already a day behind schedule, would present to the full Platform Committee late today a plank which the peace-now minority would fight on the floor.

A delay in the convention schedule, even postponing the presidential nomination scheduled for Wednesday, become more and more possible.

Pierre Salinger of California, who has been active in pushing peace proposals although he is not a committee member, told newsmen some "outside peacemakers" were trying their hand but indicated he does not rate the prospects of an agreement high.

Salinger, who supports the candidacy of Sen. George S. McGovern, named Clark Kerr, former chancellor of the University of California, and United Auto Workers Union President Walter Reuther among those trying to work out a settlement.

HUMPHREY

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today his hopes for a first-ballot victory for the presidential nomination may lie in the hands of the big Ohio delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

And he said he needs the continued strong support of organized labor both in the convention and in the fall election against Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon, Humphrey said "is no soft touch."

Humphrey spoke to the Ohio delegation in a Loop hotel dining room after meeting with the Missouri delegation and urging Labor representatives to stand with him.

"I do not intend through any act of mine to let this country land in the hands of the Republican nominee," he said. "I know the fight will be difficult."

Earlier, Humphrey said he didn't like the barbed wire and "over-presence of police" around the convention in Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

McCARTHY

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Eugene McCarthy's campaign manager said today "it now is quite clear" that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is not going to win a first-ballot nomination for president.

Blair Clark told a new conference, "The developments of yesterday make it evident that this convention is not going to proceed hastily to the business of nominating a president."

He cited particularly the decision of the big Illinois delegation to postpone a vote on whom to support and what he said was a decision by several Southern delegations to stick with a favorite-son strategy.

Meantime, two Minnesota backers of McCarthy proposed running him for president on the Minnesota ballot in November if he fails to win the nomination.

R. Hopkins Holmberg, Minneapolis, and John S. Connolly, St. Paul, said petitions already were being circulated—without formal approval of the McCarthy organization—to quality for the ballot.

McCarthy himself remained closeted in his 23rd floor suite at the Conrad Hilton Hotel. He was scheduled to talk with several party leaders and perhaps attend some state caucuses.

His first meeting this morning was with Jesse M. Unruh, chairman of California's 17r-vote delegation.

Clark was asked if he sensed growing sentiment for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., as the party's White House nominee.

"It is interesting," he answered, "that there is so much talk about Sen. Kennedy but I don't think any of us know what Sen. Kennedy is going to do."

Clark said the McCarthy forces had been conferring closely with the camp of Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., on strategy involved in presenting a minority platform plank on the Vietnamese war. This plank, among other things, calls for an end to the bombing of North Vietnam.

Asked if a floor fight over this plank might alienate some delegates, Clark said McCarthy had no choice but to join in such an effort "after he has campaigned all over this country on the war issue."

TEENAGER NABBED — Security officials for the Democratic Convention seized Peter Laine, 19, on the roof of the delegate-filled Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago yesterday, and said they found a .22 caliber rifle with telescopic sights in his car nearby. The youth claimed he merely went to the rooftop for a better view of the city. (UPI Telephoto)

McGOVERN

CHICAGO (AP) — Longshot presidential hopeful Sen. George S. McGovern, whose late-starting campaign has sparked little interest and few delegate votes, is hoping that Illinois' large delegation will break in his favor and get his drive moving.

Three developments yesterday bolstered McGovern's hopes:

Endorsement from Illinois Atty. Gen. William G. Clark whose dovish Vietnam sentiments parallel McGovern's.

An applause punctuated visit with the Illinois delegation where the South Dakota senator said he found the 118-vote delegation listening "as people who haven't reached a decision."

A decision by Illinois to postpone a delegation poll from tinuation of Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's uncommitted stance. Daley has been expected to go for Humphrey and take the bulk of the delegation with him.

The McGovern strategy is to pick up enough votes so that he can combine with Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and favorite sons to deny Humphrey first ballot victory.

Then he hopes Humphrey backers will prefer him to McCarthy on a basis of party regularity and domestic platforms, and the McCarthy supporters will swing to him rather than the vice president because of his Vietnam position.

Clark, a candidate for the U.S. Senate, typified the type of support McGovern is most likely to get. His Vietnam War position is like McGovern's and he says the senator can unify the party better than Humphrey or McCarthy.

POLL

NEW YORK (UPI)—A nationwide poll of voters indicates that Richard M. Nixon could defeat Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey but would lose to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy.

But the poll, completed two days before the Democratic National Convention, showed that the respondents favored Humphrey as the Democratic candidate by a narrow margin over McCarthy.

Sindlinger & Co. Inc. conducted the poll among 1,696 voters by telephone Thursday through Saturday. The results were published yesterday in the Sindlinger Daily Consensus Client report.

The poll showed Humphrey preferred for the Democratic nomination by 25.9 per cent of the voters questioned, McCarthy by 23.5 per cent, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy by 10.7 per cent, President Johnson by 10.6 per cent, Sen. George S. McGovern by 4.2 per cent, and George C. Wallace by .4 per cent. The remaining 24.8 per cent expressed noopinion.

The male voters polled were mainly responsible for Humphrey's edge. The men chose Humphrey over McCarthy 29.2 per cent to 24.9 per cent. The women were split 22.9 per cent for Humphrey and 22.1 per cent for McCarthy.

When the two leaders were matched against Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee however, McCarthy emerged as the one who could defeat Nixon.

In a Humphrey-Nixon race, 41.5 per cent of the voters polled picked Nixon to 31.3 per cent for Humphrey and 13.7 per cent for Wallace, a third-party candidate, while 8.1 per cent had no opinion and 5.4 per cent wanted none of the three.

Yippies Play At Tag With Chicago Police

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 1,000 Yippies, hippies and assorted purveyors of protest played traffic-snarling street tag with police over a four-mile section of Chicago's most famous streets last night, climaxing a day of varied protest demonstrations.

Despite a short barrage of rocks aimed at police in Lincoln Park after midnight, there were very few arrests—at least eight—for the number of people involved—at one point about 2,000.

Activity began on a serious note in the early afternoon when several youth and antiwar groups peacefully picketed the major hotels of Democratic National Convention delegates. They were protesting U.S. fighting in Vietnam, Soviet troops in Czechoslovakia, federal troops on the alert in Chicago, and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in the lead for the Democratic presidential nomination.

But toward midnight a sudden, unplanned romp developed that gaily zig-zagged through several sections of Near-North Chicago.

Problems first began when the more than 1,000 demonstrators set up picket lines at the Conrad Hilton and the Palmer House. They were visited by the three major presidential contenders during the day and returned to Lincoln Park, a sort of informal gathering place about three miles north of the Loop, Chicago's downtown heart.

There were a couple of minor clashes with police as several persons were arrested for a interfering with police, and as dark fell the question on nearly everybody's mind was whether to obey the park's posted 11 p.m. closing time.

Many of the demonstration marshals who kept picket lines under tight and orderly control earlier in the day decided there was no point in confronting the police last night, and started walking among the couples and groups huddled in blankets on the grass or warming themselves over trash basket fires, urging everyone to leave.

Most of the overwhelmingly white crowd started to comply, but ran into a half-dozen Negro militants near the park entrance who mounted each others shoulders to shout, "The park is free! The park is ours!"

Dozens of demonstrators took up the chant, and surged back into the middle of the park's narrow southern end, where marshals shouting louder than the Negroes managed to change the chant to, "The streets are free! The streets are ours!"

"Into the streets," became the rallying cry, and people who minutes before had been talking about wanting to go home and sleep joined the human wave that flowed into the four broad lanes of Clark Street, promptly stopping all traffic.

"Beautiful. The park is cleared right on schedule," someone said.

From then on, whoever shouted loudest was the leader for the moment. Hundreds of young men and women, some in beards and beads with painted faces, some long-haired and sandaled, and some in the latest turtleneck sweater fashions followed whoever was ahead of them in a pell-mell run south toward the Loop, 18 blocks away.

Chanting was loud but indiscriminate: "Humphrey go," "Ho, Ho, Ho Chi Minh," "The street is free, the street is ours," and "Free Huey," a reference to California Black Panther Defense Minister Huey P. Newton, now on trial for the murder of an Oakland policeman.

How's Your Memory?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique for acquiring a powerful memory which can pay you real dividends in both business and social advancement and works like magic to give you added poise, necessary self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by remembering accurately everything they see, hear, or read. Whether in business, at social functions or even in casual conversations with new acquaintances, there are ways in which you can dominate each situation by your ability to remember.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in remembering anything you choose to remember, the publishers have printed full details of their self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Memory," which will be mailed free to anyone who requests it. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Memory Studies, 835 Diversey Pkwy., Dept. 310-618, Chicago, Ill. 60614. A postcard will do.

Is It Only The Label That Counts Any More?

"It is a sad commentary on the communist mind that a sign of liberty in Czechoslovakia is deemed a fundamental threat to the security of the Soviet system."

The words are those of President Lyndon B. Johnson, and no others have better expressed the dismal truth regarding the invasion of Czechoslovakia by her communist neighbors.

President Johnson also called on the Soviet Union to withdraw its troops — which, having once committed them, it can scarcely do. And he called on the United Nations for action against the USSR for violation of the UN Charter — which the UN is powerless to take.

President Johnson spoke not only for the United States, however, when he castigated Communist Russia with his "sad commentary" statement. He spoke for all the free world — and even for those communist countries which have a tiny allotment of freedom. For the leaders of Yugoslavia and Romania joined in condemning the Kremlin's action.

UNFORTUNATELY, his words came after the fact.

The White House and State Department were silent during weeks when the eyes of the world were on Czechoslovakia for its brave defiance of the communist master state in offering its people a return of some of the freedoms they once knew.

There were reasons, no doubt. And one of them was the United States was in no position to talk rough to Russia — and tough talk is the only kind the Kremlin leaders seem to understand.

The United States could not talk tough because all the world knows it is no position to back up tough talk. Its resources are too far committed in the swamps and jungles of Vietnam for it to make a show of force elsewhere.

As the Wall Street Journal commented:

"America finds itself tied down in the morass of Vietnam, fighting a tenth-rate power ostensibly to support a government with only the shakiest pretension of democracy. Partly because of that commitment, the government is, or has considered itself, powerless to aid a genuine movement on the part of the Czechs to overthrow Soviet-style tyranny — a movement that, if successful, would have weakened the world position of our real enemy in the Kremlin.

"There is something dismayingly out of focus in that picture of American policy."

THERE ARE THOSE — and presidential aspirant Eugene J. McCarthy apparently is one of them — who do not see the Czech revolt in such light. They dismiss it as a matter of one Communist against another, therefore little concern of ours.

But what the Czechoslovak government was giving back to its people was something that is precious under whatever name: a bit of freedom — freedom of speech, of assembly, of the press.

And freedom, no matter what banner it carries, is what we should be concerned with.

The government of South Vietnam is unquestionably anti-communist. But it has offered its people precious little in the way of freedom.

It is, perhaps, a sad commentary on the American mind that a non-communist government in Asia that offers only tyranny is more worth saving than a communist government in Europe that offers basic freedoms.

More Names On Speculative List For Bridge Board Posts

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

More names are cropping up in the competition for one of the poorest paid jobs in Marin — director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Marin will have three representatives instead of two if the governor signs a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, but only one of the three can be a member of the public. The others will be a supervisor and a city councilman.

THE LATEST NAME heard is that of Joseph E. Sheeks of Belvedere, law partner of Bagley and former mayor of Mill Valley. Sheeks told this reporter that he has talked with some of the supervisors about being appointed, and noted that he and Bagley "see pretty much eye to eye on the bridge district."

Sheeks practices law in San Rafael, but bears scars suffered for 12 years as a commuter, so he is familiar with the commute mess. That's one reason he decided to work in Marin.

Sheeks' appointment would put Bagley on an equal footing with Assemblyman John F. Foran of San Francisco, whose law partner, Stephan C. Leonoudakis, is a bridge director.

SUPERVISOR Ernest N. Kettenhofen reportedly also would like to be the citizen on the board after he leaves office in December. Other names mentioned are those of Margaret B. Azevedo, Roger Kent and George H. Ludy, whose term as a bridge director expires in December.

According to some supervisors, Ludy will be retired.

Also heard are pleas that the selection be delayed until January, when a somewhat different board of supervisors will be in office.

SUPERVISOR Thomas T. Storer faces a hard re-election campaign, but again seems to be looking ahead to other political office.

This is one conclusion from a reading of the members of a committee giving a dinner for him Sept. 10 in Sausalito "for his work in advancing Marin-San Francisco cooperation."

The list includes six San Francisco supervisors (all Democrats); Cyril Magnin, president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce; Stephan C. Leonoudakis, a Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District director, and Louis Ets-Hokin, John Fell Stevenson and Stephen A. Zellerbach.

In Marin, the list includes Supervisor William A. Gnoss, Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. of Belvedere, Robert L. Dunn of Greenbrae, Mrs. Shirley Morgan of Inverness, Alice Kent and Mrs. T. C. Wellman of Kentfield, Mill Valley Mayor Dean N. Meyer, Robert D. Carrow, Charles B. Weers and councilman Douglas M. Merrill of Novato, Richard V. Bettini, Alfred E. Heller, James M. Kennedy and Lothar Salin of San Rafael, and Theodore C. Bernardi, Chester Bowles Jr. and councilman Jan Paul Dyk of Sausalito.

Not many of them live in Storer's supervisorial district, but most do live in the Sixth Congressional District.

A MARIN DEBATE between Max Rafferty and Alan Cranston, sought by the county branch of the American Association of University Women, apparently won't come off. Cranston last week declared there was no point in debating "where one of the candidates has such a disregard for the truth."

Commuter Tax Also May Escalate

Re, this commute tax, leave it to the politicians to try to kick a dog that can't bite back.

The reason put forward for the need for this tax is a pretext, a subterfuge.

All of these services have been functioning for as long as any one can remember, and, since they could not function without funds, it is obvious to me that my share was provided by my employer.

It is also obvious to me that it came out of the wages that I did not receive, therefore to be taxed twice for these services is manifestly unfair.

I am as sure as I am of anything that my employer's tax bill will not be less if and when his employees begin to pay this tax.

Another point: if my earnings were in the higher brackets, I would be paying far more for these services than those who live in the city who have the benefit of them 24 hours per day.

If the city is so badly in need of funds why does it not tax its citizens who store their private property on the public streets night after night? This would be a proper tax, and, to put it into effect all that is required is to sell monthly windshield stickers at retail outlets, then after 2 a.m., tag the cars that do not display stickers.

Oh, but that calls for fortitude!

Commuting Employe To Be Taxed Twice

The new San Francisco tax on commuters is not only a problem for the Marin residents who commute to work in the big city but for all residents of Marin. Once the new tax is put into effect, with court approval, this one per cent tax may be increased each year, like all taxes. This could hurt the residents of Marin who wish to have their children grow up in a healthy atmsophere.

For their own good, all residents, commuters, business, trade unions, professional, etc. should get together to encourage the residents of Marin to "Buy In Marin." All groups must come forth with leadership in this program or Marin will suffer severely from this tax and, more important, the complete lack of modern transportation.

In a few years Marin will be the only county in the immediate Bay Area which will not have rapid transit. I could spell this out in ABC, but I believe we all can see the handwriting on the wall as to what can and may happen in one of the nicest places to live in the Bay Area. It is with the above thought in mind that the Independent Insurance Agents Association of Marin felt it necessary to push with vigor the "Buy In Marin" campaign. The Independeent-Journal and the local government officials are trying to make all citizens aware of the problem, now we need the help of you, your clubs and organizations to come forward with your support and ideas to keep Marin from going backwards.

Just A Little Story Out Of Jacksonville, Fla.

(Reprinted from Cocoa (Fla.) Today)

It was a very little story, and ran on one of the inside pages of the paper, and probably not too many people read it.

It bears repeating here because it tells us something, and should mean something to us. If you find it a sad story, remember that it is an incident that, like all the things that happen around us, is a reflection of our society. It is not an image. It will not go away.

IT INVOLVES a Negro, Manny Fletcher, who ran a small grocery in Jacksonville. Last week he padlocked it for good after watching three robbers put a bucket-sized hole in his clerk with a 12-gauge shotgun.

"They killed a good man for less than $45," Fletcher said. "All he did was stand up and they shot him."

It made Fletcher sick.

"My business is too small, there are too many criminals, and life is too short to risk it any longer. It's a sad day in this country when we have to live in such fear."

So what have we lost? A good man, who stood up. A small grocery. Less than $45.

You might say that's not much. That there are bigger, gorier, more interesting crime stories. But that's missing the point, really. This one tells us all we need to know.

THE STORY of Manny Fletcher begs for some response and your reaction to it will go a long way toward framing your answers for some of the problems we face today.

Maybe some of us can isolate the implications, and examine them, and out of that find a direction or resolve.

We can't put a cop in every small grocery. Or can we?

We can't feed every hungry man, and take away the need for robbing. Or can we?

We can't assure absolute justice for EVERY minority group, and sooth the bitterness of a past century. Or can we?

Maybe it doesn't even make any difference. Maybe Manny Fletcher, or his $45, or his clerk, just isn't that important. After all, it was a very little story, and ran on one of the inside pages of the paper. You probably didn't even read it.

Marin County supervisors decided to seek voter approval of a $460,000 county airport bond issue to finance development of an airport in the tidelands off Point San Quentin and acquire 10 acres at the Novato Airport site.

Alaskans voted by a 7 to 1 margin in favor of becoming the 49th state of the union.

Invasion Of Czechoslovakia Likely To Speed Arms Race

WASHINGTON — Shortly after he had left his side-memoire on Czechoslovakia at the White House, Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin let it be known that the document expressed the hope the Czech invasion would not impair Soviet-American relations. It was the virtuous — and probably futile — hope of one who has worked earnestly to improve those relations.

At the same moment, by one of the weird coincidences of an improbable time, Secy. of State Dean Rusk was testifying before the Democratic platform committee not only on Vietnam but on the need to increase East-West trade and broaden the exchanges with the Communist bloc. How much of recent hopeful beginnings have been consigned to the rubbish heap of history no one can now say.

THE TWO NUCLEAR giants were on the eve of the most fateful negotiation since the start of the atomic era. Agreement had been reached to start talks on imposing limits on both offensive and defensive nuclear missiles. The only missing ingredient was a specific time.

Without an agreement, it is no secret here, the forces in this country, and presumably also in the Soviet Union, pressing for an antiballistic-missile defense will prevail. This will mean spending on a scale making the $70-billion-plus defense budget look like a shopping list for the five-and-dime store. It will mean taxes unparalleled even during World War II. It can mean something very like a garrison state.

Yet with Moscow having just demonstrated that even an ally is not safe from betrayal by force, can any President enter into negotiation for a treaty that depends in part at least on the good faith of the signatories? As the tragic details come in of the destruction of an experiment in liberalization, with a brave people once again ground under a conqueror's heel, public opinion will be inflamed.

THE AWESOME realities of a new upward round in the arms race can hardly be ignored. Just at this point an expert witness has come forward to underscore some of those realities. In his forthcoming book, "The Essence of Security," Robert S. McNamara, the former secretary of defense, expresses in language of unmistakable clarity how action and reaction between Moscow and Washington forces the spiral ever upward.

He tells how, after he took over the Pentagon, he found that the Soviet Union had "a very small operational arsenal of intercontinental missiles." This was in the aftermath of the loudly trumpeted charge in the 1960 presidential campaign of a "missile gap." However, the former secretary adds, the Russians did possess the technological and industrial capacity to enlarge their nuclear arsenal very substantially over the succeeding several years.

Although he had no information that Moscow intended to use that potential, McNamara launched a massive buildup which, he maintains, gave the United States its current superiority in numbers of warheads and deliverable megatons. The Russians in turn launched a large-scale program to insure that their return-strike capability could not be wiped out by an American first strike. Then McNamara says:

"WHAT IS ESSENTIAL to understand here is that the Soviet Union and the United States mutually influence one another's strategic plans. Whatever their intentions or our intentions, actions — or even realistically potential actions — on either side relating to the buildup of nuclear forces necessarily trigger reactions on the other side. It is precisely this action-reaction phenomenon that fuels an arms race."

He makes once again the point he stressed while he was secretary — the utter futility of an antiballistic-missile system, since such a system cannot in the foreseeable future prevent a missile strike costing millions of casualties and virtually wiping out any organized order of life. McNamara weakened his own case against the ABM by authorizing construction of a "thin" system to protect against Chinese missiles in the '70s.

The wave of reaction stirred by the rape of Czechoslovakia will serve those who want no agreements of any kind with Moscow. It will serve those pressing for more and more arms as the only security, and the voices of reason are all too likely to be blanked out.

Undersea Spies Point Way To War In Depths

By GEORGE WEEKS

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Much has been written about "spying in space," less about oceanographic espionage. But already spies of the sea have "bugged" portions of the ocean bottoms and are developing means of tracking and identifying their underwater enemies with uncanny accuracy.

It is all part of an accelerating attempt by the United States and Russia to gain supremacy at the ocean depths—where some military authorities contend a future war may be won.

THE CURRENT state of underwater weaponry is awesome enough, considering the hundreds of nuclear-tipped missiles that the two countries have between them in the submarines now lurking under the waves.

But the potential of militarized oceans is absolutely chilling. Already scientists are speculating about such things as using underwater explosions to touch off guided tidal waves that could be catastrophic to any coastal nation.

The increasing strategic significance of the undersea world is giving new importance to oceanographic espionage. The subject is highly classified—so highly classified at the Pentagon that the guardians of America's underwater secrets still decline public comment on an acoustical detection system installed about four years ago along the Continental Shelf of the U.S. east coast. The system detects "electronic signatures" in areas frequented by Soviet subs.

A SHIP'S signature, like a human fingerprint, is unique. It is determined by such things as the beat of its crew and pumps, and the characteristics of its wake.

Sounds detected by these "bugs"—and by U.S. planes, surface ships and subs—are fed into computers which have memorized the signatures of known Soviet submarines and can flashback the name or description of a sub within seconds.

In addition to sounds, submarines also give off traces of heat and turbulence as they pass through the water. To detect these "scars," the United States uses ultra-sensitive infrared devices in satellites and planes.

PENTAGON intelligence chiefs have been startled by what they have learned recently about Soviet submarine advances. This intelligence indicates that:

Soviet nuclear attack submarines have been clocked by U.S. subs at speeds greater than that indicated by U.S. reports on Soviet capabilities.

There is evidence that future Soviet subs will have power plants designed to reduce noise.

There are unconfirmed indications of Soviet advances in hull construction which would give subs deeper diving capability.

The United States is responding. Defense Secretary Clark Clifford announced July 1 that the Pentagon would proceed with plans to build a new, $185 million high-speed submarine. He said a new "quiet" submarine was under study.

Lack Of Support For Police: One Possible Reason For It

Law enforcement officials are often heard to remark about the lack of public respect for the police officer in the performance of his duty, and growing disrespect for law in general.

Perhaps this is indeed becoming more and more a reality, especially if an encounter I had the other night with Fairfax police is typical of what happens to a citizen who suddenly finds himself signaled over by a patrol car late at night. In my case, it was shortly after 10 p.m.

IT WAS A LONG WAIT, the time it takes to puff down the last half of a 100 mm. cigarette, before one of the two officers came out of the patrol car to my window. Not knowing what I had been stopped for, the flashing red lights, swinging rhythmically across my rearview mirrors for a period of from three to five minutes, were unnerving.

At last, after another patrol car had arrived on the scene, presumably to protect the two officers (with their two pistols and one shotgun) from whatever it was they thought I might do, one officer approached my window.

It was just after I had presented my driver's license that I noticed a white light flashing through my right rear window, combing the back seat and floor while the first officer occupied my attention.

He informed me that I had been pulled over for running a stop sign, asked if I was aware of it, and after I replied, "no," returned to his car.

BUT THE OTHER officer remained, continuing to methodically shine his flashlight into every nook and cranny. Then he returned to the car too, while the other patrol car cruised up and down the block.

About half a cigarette later, the two officers returned, one on each side. The first officer questioned a black object lying in the back seat of my car. Before telling him it was my umbrella, I asked if I were under arrest. He impatiently repeated the question.

I answered.

They went back to the patrol car.

IT WAS THEN that the real wait began. Normally I do not chain smoke cigarettes, but somehow I found myself lighting a third, then a fourth, while the flashing red lights from both patrol cars continued.

I can tell you that I took little delight in watching passing motorists gawk at the scene, of which I was the central character. But it did serve, at least, to pass the time.

The first officer approached again and asked if I had ever lived at one of several places in Fairfax. I told him "no." He asked if I were sure. I repeated. He repeated. I told him every place I have lived since I was born. Apparently satisfied, he returned to his patrol car.

Another half a cigarette later, he came back and told me that he wasn't going to cite me after all. Then he told me to wait until he turned off his red lights. "You'll have to wait 'til the record check comes through," he said.

I HAD ALMOST completed that fifth cigarette when the lights went off and the second patrol car disappeared. I drove home, to the one I have lived in since the sixth grade at Deer Park School. But the less-than-one-mile trip from a friend's home had taken more than a half-hour.

I am told by local authorities that is "normal procedure" for two patrol cars to be present in these instances due to the possible dangers involved.

I am also told that officers make record checks "if they have reason to believe" that a crime has been committed.

And I am also told that police may search any vehicle if they "have reason to believe" . . .

I have also been told that police are public servants, which till then I had reason to believe.

ART BUCHWALD

To Improve Election Method, Why Not Try Thieu System?

CHICAGO — The American method of selecting a President has been under criticism this year. There are charges that it is cumbersone and out of date. I believe there is something to be said for beefing up the American presidential elections, and I think I know how it could be done.

We should take a a leaf from our devoted allies, the South Vietnamese, who are not only practicing democracy as we taught it to them, but who are adding a few innovations of their own.

For example, in the last presidential election the South Vietnamese chose Nguyen Van Thieu as their president, and he was duly sworn in. But the man who ran against him and came in second, Truong Dinh Dzu, was given five years in jail.

The reason Dzu was given five years was that he ran on a peace ticket and advocated some sort of detente with the Viet Cong.

PRESIDENT THIEU'S way of dealing with his opposition could easily be adapted to our own political system.

If we applied the Thieu election method, it would not only eliminate many candidates who were't serious about the office, but it would add a lot of excitement to the presidential race. A candidate for President would know that he would either wind up in the White House if he won, or behind bars if he lost. This would give him a added incentive to fight for the job.

I have always believed that we in the United States have let our losers off too easily after a presidential election. Even though a man has been ignominiously defeated at the polls, he is still treated by his party as a statesman.

WE SAW in Miami Beach where the Republicans not only cheered Barry Goldwater, a man who took them down the long road to defeat in 1964, but gave a standing ovation to Thomas Dewey, the two-time loser who showed so much courage in 1948 when he refused to shave off his mustache, knowing it would cost him the election.

And this year, the Republicans went so far as to renominate Richard Nixon, a man who not only lost a presidential election, but a governor's contest as well.

This could never have happened if we used the South Vietnamese democratic system of electing national figures. If they lived in Vietnam, Dewey would have received 10 years, Goldwater 5, and Nixon would probably still be breaking rocks on a chain gang.

The Republicans, like it or not, would have had to come up with somebody new.

THE DEMOCRATS would also be on a spot. I wonder if presidential candidate Hubert Humphrey would talk as much about the "politics of joy" if he knew he'd have to do five years at Leavenworth. And Gene McCarthy certainly wouldn't take this campaign so lightly if he were aware that his dovish stand on Vietnam wouuld earn him a court-martial. Even George McGovern would think twice about getting into the presidential sweepstakes if he had a prison sentence hanging over his head.

President Thieu has been criticized for what he did to his opponent Dzu. But in retrospect he has shown us that political campaigns can have a geat deal more suspense to them if you treat your opposition with the harshness they deserve.

There are many in this country who are sick and tired of seeing politicans get off scot-free after a presidential election. If the issue in this campaign is law and order, we have to stop coddling our losers. Five years in the clink is a cheap price to pay for running for President of the United States, not counting what he could get off for good behavior.

Bold Sacrifice Bid Gains Cheers In Olympic Tourney

Robert Jordan and Arthur Robinson picked up seven international match points in Hand No. 70 of the Olympic finals two months ago with a bold sacrifice bid against Italy. They wouldn't have rejoiced about going down six doubled at rubber bridge, but their action produced loud cheers from the American rooters in Deauville.

WEAK JUMP

Jordan's weak jump overcall of two spades promised a good suit but denied defensive strength. This told Arthur Robinson that the opponents surely had a laydown slam, and he jumped to five spades to jam up their bidding.

With maximum values for his opening bid of one club (in his system), Camillo Pabis-Ticci should have passed over five spades. This would encourage West to bid a slam with a really powerful hand; and Massimo D'Alelio would have been happy to bid six diamonds.

DOUBTFUL DEFENSE

The defense was as doubtful as the bidding. West opened a trump, and East took the ace of spades and returned a trump. Jordan drew the last missing trump and then led a diamond. The defenders could take their diamond and club tricks but then had to lead hearts, and this enabled Jordan to limit the heart loss to two tricks.

TACKE TRICKS FIRST.

The defenders should have taken their diamonds and clubs before leading the second round of spades. Then South would have to tackle the hearts by himself, and the defenders would get three heart tricks instead of only two.

At the other table of the match Edgar Kaplan and Norman Kay bid six diamonds and made an overtrick when the clubs broke favorably. They scored 1,390 while Jordan lost only 1,100. The difference of 290, or seven international match points, put the United States within striking distance of a world championship.

Even if you promise 16 points with an opening bid of 1 no trump you should still consider this hand worth that bid. Your intermediate cards (tens, nines and eights) are worth more than the missing point.

ALMANAC

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Today is Monday, Aug. 26, the 239th day of 1968 with 127 to follow.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter.

The morning star is Saturn.

The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1833 the great volcano at Krakatao in the Netherlands East Indies began erupting. Before it subsided the following day, two-thirds of the island was destroyed and an estimated 36,000 persons died.

In 1920 the 19th amendment went into effect, giving women the right to vote.

In 1948 Mildred Elizabeth Gillars, known as "Axis Sally," was flown to America to face charges of espionage and treason for wartime radio broadcasting for Germany.

In 1964 President Johnson and Sen. Hubert Humphrey were nominated in Atlantic City to head the Democratic ticket in the November elections.

A thought for the day: German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer said, "Hatred comes from the heart; contempt from the head; and neither feeling is quite within our control."

Mill Valley Middle School To Open For Test In Fall

Mill Valley's new middle school program, aimed at increasing individual student achievement, will open for a year's preview next month.

Three "schools within the school," each housing approximately 300 students, will be in operation at Edna Maguire School this fall. Two, the north and south schools, will contain a mixture of sixth, seventh and eighth grade students. The third, the central school, will house seventh and eighth grade students only.

The new middle school, which is scheduled to open at the Project 17 site in the fall of 1969, will be constructed with four pods around a central core, each pod housing a school within the school. Edna Maguire, until this year, has been used for seventh and eighth grade students only in a more conventional classroom instruction.

Dr. Glenn H. Skelton, director of the middle school development program, has called the new program the "best educational program yet developed for Mill Valley students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades." Dr. Skelton will head the Edna Maguire campus, with Robert Peterson as vice principal.

School opens in Mill Valley Sept. 10.

The small size of each school within the school at Edna Maguire "will give teachers a better opportunity to know students well and thus provide more fully for the needs and abilities of each individual student," Dr. Skelton said.

Each school will, for the most part, operate independent of the others, according to Dr. Skelton. In the areas of art, music and drama, teachers will move from school to school to teach. In other subjects, there may be a limited exchange of teachers for a period or so a day to improve program offerings, especially when a teacher is particularly knowledgeable in a subject, he noted.

The school year will be divided into "trimesters" of 10 weeks each.

Students will be assigned to a home room teacher with whom they will spend an extended period in the "English-history core block," Dr. Skelton said. Other required subjects will be mathematics, science and physical education.

Classes in French and Spanish will be available for all students although, under a new state law, instruction in foreign language is no longer compulsory.

The number of electives offered will be increased this year and will include photography, journalism, tennis and chorus.

The three schools will have access to the new learning diagnostic center which will be run by two full-time teachers and a part-time coordinator. The program, designed to aid children with learning difficulties, will house some children fulltime and other on a part-time basis.

Letter grade report cards will be sent home for the basic subjects and teachers will also prepare written comments, Dr. Skelton said. In addition, frequent teacher-parent conferences are planned.

Students will be assigned to the schools at random and each school will contain students of a wide range of skills and abilities. The students will remain in their particular school for the full three-year program.

Six portable classrooms have been added to Edna Maguire to house the additional enrollment and each school will have approximately 12 teachers assigned to it.

Only one-half of the sixth grade students in the district will be assigned to Edna Maguire. Sixth graders at Marin Terrace, Homestead, Strawberry and Tamalpais Valley will remain in their neighborhood schools.

Civic Center Heliport On Supervisor Agenda

Plans for a heliport near the Marin County Civic Center will be discussed by the board of supervisors and the county aviation commission in a workshop session at 9 a.m. tomorrow. (See story, page 1.)

SFO Helicopter has said it would locate its facilities at the heliport.

The supervisors will then meet in regular session and discuss appointment of a successor to Howard H. Council, parks and recreation commission secretary, who resigned this week following the naming of 15-year-old Raymond A. Bresnan to the commission last week.

The board is scheduled to hear a report from Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos on the increase in burglaries in West Marin and a request for additional resident deputies. A total of 124 burglaries were recorded in that area during May, June and July, an increase of 360 per cent over the same 1966 period.

Also in the morning will be a continuation of discussions concerning the San Francisco commuter tax. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen will report on discussion by the Alameda and San Mateo County board chairmen of actions beyond legal steps already taken to fight the tax.

The Independent Insurance Agents Association of Marin will request the board's endorsement of a "Buy in Marin" campaign to keep tax revenues out of the city across the bay.

The afternoon session will open at 1:45 p.m. with a report by Pierre W. Joske, parks and recreation director, on the Deer Park development project. The Fairfax City Council Wednesday night voted 4-1 to oppose the plan because of poor road accessibility.

Other afternoon topics include discussion of the availability of bicycling paths in Marin and an appeal by the Strawberry Recreation District to limit houseboats on Richardson Bay.

Clergyman's Bride Missing From Church

GRANADA HILLS (UPI) — The young bride of a minister mysteriously disappeared from the office of his church yesterday shortly before the morning services.

Police on horseback and in a helicopter were joined by members of the congregation in a search through the rugged foothills near the Hillcrest Christian Church in this suburb of Los Angeles.

No trace of Mrs. Dixie Arensen, 20, was found when darksearch resumed at dawn today.

She was last seen by her husband of two months, the Rev. Joanthan Arensen, 22, acting pastor of the church with about 400 members.

He said his wife went to the church office about 7:15 a.m. yesterday to prepare a bulletin for the 9:30 a.m. services. When he arrived about 9:15 a.m., she had vanished.

Her electric typewriter was running, her glasses were on the floor and her car was parked outside. There were no signs of a struggle.

Arensen told police, "She never would have gone anywhere —not even as far as the front door—without her glasses."

Three Injured In Accident

A motorist and two pedestrians were injured when the motorist swerved and pushed a parked auto onto the sidewalk on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Broadway in Kentfield at 10:45 p.m. Friday causing the parked vehicle to strike the pedestrians, California Highway Patrol reported.

The motorist, Clifford W. Parlee, 41, of 108 Professional Parkway, Terra Linda, an architect, who told the highway patrol he was forced to swerve by a passing car, was treated at Marin General Hospital for a fractured nose.

The pedestrians, Gary Hoffman, 23, and Donna Hoffman, 22, both of 201 Kent Avenue, Kentfield, said they would seek treatment from their physicians. Owner of the parked car was Warren R. Sielsky, 812 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield.

Accident Victim Reported Improved

A 16-year-old Rohnert Park girl was reported improved and in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital following an accident Friday on Lucas Valley Road near McKinley Road.

Mary Moore suffered head injuries and face cuts when her car went off the north shoulder of the road, swerved back across the road and struck an embankment on the south side.

There were three great temples at Baalbeck, erected by Imperial Rome to dazzle people of the East with its might.

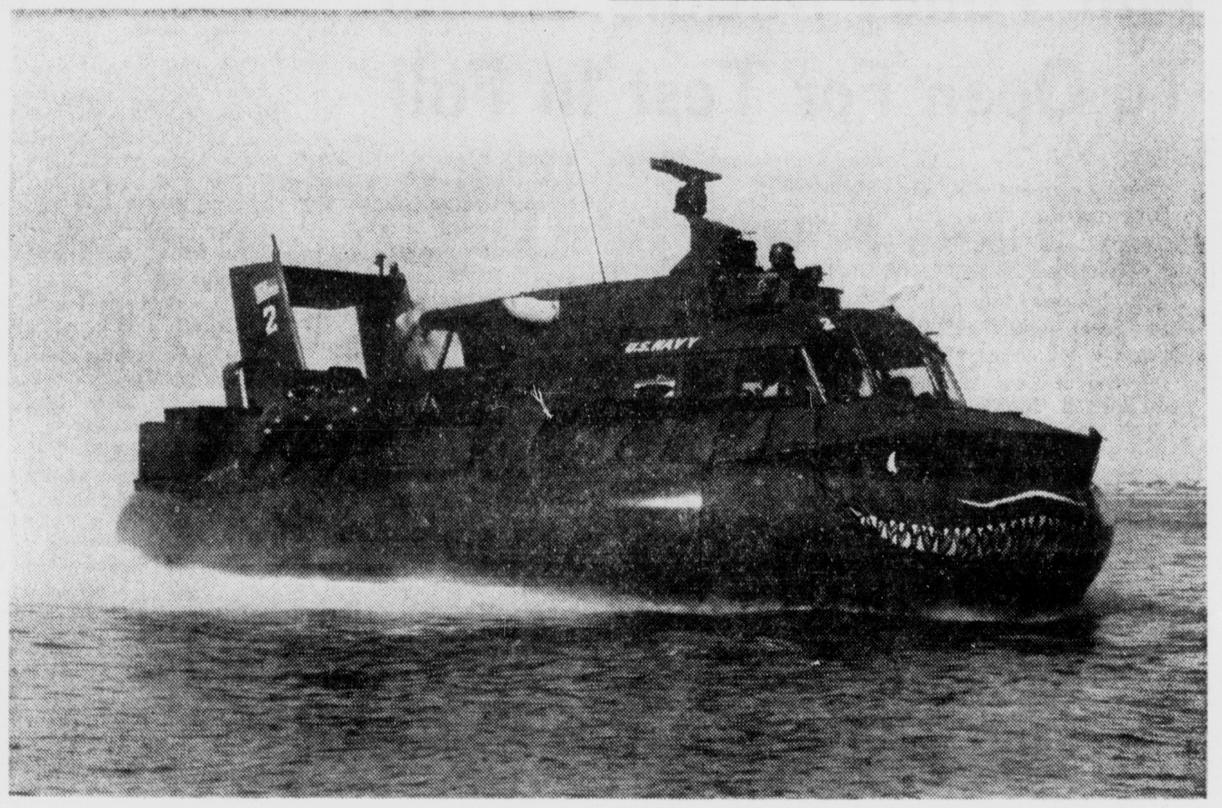
A report of growth projections and future building needs of the Fairfax school system is among items on the agenda for the district board at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the district office, 58 Park Road.

The board will also hear a report on central heating problems and on flooring needs in the district.



WHAT BIG TEETH YOU HAVE

A row of teeth painted on the bows of a Navy patrol air cushion vehicles symbolizes the "bite" of the high speed amphibious boats. Crews for this type of craft, now in action on the island waterways of Vietnam, are being trained at Naval centers at Mare Island and Alameda. Training often goes on off Marin shores.

From campus to country to city living these clan-ny plaids will be seen on the bonny-est lasses! Separates that harmonize into one great with-it-now look. Fall shades in solids and plaids. Wool plaid kilt, $15 shown with matching wool plaid jacket, $22 and Orlon acrylic turtle-neck pull-on sweater, $7. Belted A-line wool skirt, $10, shown with jewel neck slip-over wool sweater, $10. Jr. sizes 5-13, sweaters 34-40.

French Fashions Disclose New Styles, Fabrics, Ideas

PARIS PANTALOONS are featured and include a tunic in black and white wool checks and a long, matching, scarf. It is part of the Fall fashion collection shown by Nina Ricci in Paris.

By LUCIE NOEL

PARIS (AP) — The French fall and winter collections have once again set a new pace in styles, fabrics, ideas and colors.

The buyers have come and gone. They arrived filled with apprehension but most left happy, armed with new ideas and merchandise.

FASHION PHOTOS released today show that hemlines brush kneecaps at most of the great traditional houses, but are still lifted two to four inches above at the younger avant-garde houses. They are Cardin, Courreges, Ungaro, Feraud, Esterel.

The traditionalists are Dior, Givenchy, Balmain, Gres, Lanvin. They believe in women and in fashions doing something for them.

Big news this season is "pants for every hour." Even Givenchy, known for his distinction, comes out with hostess jump suits in black satin. Coco Chanel, the rebel, has Bermuda legs peeking out from beneath glamorous tunics in precious brocades.

TWO STYLES go round the clock. They are seen at most houses. The chasuble dress is revived with emphasis, but treated to major surgery, its midriff contrasting in media and color. Vinyl, or patent, or leather, shows again and again at Cardin's. Obviously knitted turtlenecks go with it.

The tunic gets a new lease on life everywhere. Most skirts flare but only younger houses sponsor skating-skirt styles for the young set. Every type of fabric is seen, from double flannels to elaborate brocades or all-beaded and jeweled fabrics.

Black is terribly chic once again. Red, brown, gray and green are other basics. Sapphire blue needs watching.

There has been so much see-through and nudity around that the designers themselves have turned to suggestive and seductive covered-up glamor, floor-length and long-sleeved, with built-up necklines. The billfold wraparounds often reveal an expanse of bare leg or flowing pants in chiffon, brocade or crepe.

IN THE LIMELIGHT is the revival of black velvet, taffeta and faille. For daytime tweeds, jersey, velours and melton cloths are everywhere. Fabrics and colors are contrasted in the same model, in geometric or puzzle patches. Dior does his patchwork encrustations in fur.

Come evening the word is glamor for both couturier groups. Brocades come into their own, gauze, metallic weaves. Bands of jeweled embroidery fall in with the Rennaisance trend evident in the treatment of sleeve decor and jerkins. The Oriental trend is found at Chanel and Givenchy.

Leather Binge

Look for a leather binge in fall ready-to-wear. It shows for younger folks in both real and fake in everything from jumpers to fringed buckskin skirts, two-piece knits and "body" sweaters ribbed in at the waist.

Christian Exchange Student Returns

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Marcia Thurston, the 19-year-old Mill Valley girl who is home after spending a year in Indonesia under the International Christian Youth Exchange program, says that one of the greatest values of the experience was learning to face herself.

"It taught me to be independent and was a real challenge," she says. "I had to make myself do what I should because my Indonesian family had no responsibility for discipline."

Marcie, as she is better known, is the daughter of Mrs. Doris Thurston of Mill Valley and Paul Thurston of San Rafael and is the second oldest child in a family that includes two boys and two more girls.

SHE WAS GRADUATED from Tamalpais High School in 1967 and became an ICYE student sponsored by the Mill Valley Community Church. She was active first in the church's Redwood League composed of junior high school students, and then in the Muir League, the church's group of high school students, which provides half the money to pay the expenses of the one selected to go to a foreign country.

"I had said I was willing to go anywhere," she explained; "so the World Council of Churches National Council, which selects the countries and families for the exchange students, assigned me to Surabaja. This is the second largest city in Indonesia with a population of two million. It is ing in another city, and another son is an ICYE student in New York City."

"I lived in a big house with Dr. and Mrs. Mesach Wignjohusodo and most of their 10 children, one of whom was married and living there with her husband and children. There were 14 of us in the house. The oldest son is a doctor who is married and living in anothe city, and another son is an ICYE student in New York City."

Before she left, Marcie studied the Indonesian language for two months with Dr. Bill Garoutte of Mill Valley, who had spent a year in Indonesia, and she had also stayed several weekends with an Indonesian family in San Francisco.

SHE SAYS SHE managed fairly well in the government state school that is the equivalent of the senior high school in this country, though it has three years instead of four. She studied languages, Indonesian culture and history. At home she had to learn to speach the regional Javanese language.

After about six months she took some courses in Pantja Sila, a study of the principles of government, and civics at IKIP University.

"The rest of the time," said Marcie, who has a nice alto voice, "I spent singing in the choir of the Christian University Youth Movement. The choir had 40 or 50 voices, and we even sang in Protestant Christian churches in other cities. This was what I enjoyed most, especially singing in a trio within the chorus. The others in the trio were two boys, Pras, a bass, and Niko, a tenor.

"People in Indonesia spend a lot more time in the home with the family just in conversation and amusing themselves than they do in this country. In fact, life is lived at a lot slower pace. There are few cars, and everyone rides bicycles or takes pedicabs. I rode a bicycle every day.

"I NEVER GOT homesick, though I missed my family and San Francisco, because the people are so warm and take you right in. I did have to get used to the hot, spicy food, and now I like it. It's odd that spicy foods seem to taste better in hot countries. The worst problem was the tropical heat and humidity, which affected me for a couple of months."

Marcie brought home some dried cakes of Krupuk made of rice, shrimp and water. When deep fried in oil they puff up and look something like tortillas, but they are crisp. We tried one, found it delicious and thought how great it would be with a cocktail dip' "They use this almost like bread," she said.

"The children," Marcie continued, "wear Western clothes, but when a girl is married, she reverts to the traditional dress. This consists of a long-sleeved blouse, a Kabaja, or long wrap-around skirt held in place by a Slendang, or another piece of cloth wrapped around the waist.

"Almost all baby girls have their ears pierced. I was

By MOLLY MARIN

Martha De Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. DeKay of San Rafael, returned yesterday from a weekend spent in Hyannis Port, Mass., as the guest of Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy.

Martha, who is a senior at Terra Linda High School, met Joseph Kennedy III while in Putney, Vt., on her way back from Austria, where she spent the summer as an exchange student.

MR. AND MRS. VERNEY Virgil Vehlewald are living in Athens, Ga., following their marriage Aug. 10 at St. Rita's Catholic Church in Fairfax.

The bride is the former Mary Blanche Soileau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Soileau III of San Anselmo. Before settling in Athens, where the bridegroom is attending naval supply school, the couple visited relatives in Morristown, Mo., and Rayne, La.

THE ANNUAL Labor Day Yacht Race, finds yachts from all over the bay heading first south to Coyote Point Yacht Club from Sausalito on Saturday. Then on Sunday, the yachts return to San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere, for a barbecue supper and trophy presentation.

The theme of the SFYC barbecue will be "Mexican Fiesta," carried out in decor, menu items and the appearance of Don Pedro, a strolling musician and singer. Working with Mike Shea, entertainment chairman, is a committee from the women's auxiliary. Mrs. Dorothy Shemanski is chairman; Mesdames Robert Barth, Ben Hirsch, David Sheldon and William J. Edinger, assistants. About 450 are expected at the barbecue.

Chief trophy will be the Gus Barth Trophy, presented annually to the winner of the return race. Mr. Barth, a longtime resident of Belvedere, founded the race some 20 years ago to promote friendship between his yachting acquaintances on the Peninsula and in Marin County. The Barth yacht, Valkyrie, now sailed by Gus Barth's son, Robert of Belvedere, his wife and children, Robert Jr. and Joan, represents the family at Coyote Point each year.

MR. AND MRS. Michael Slepnikoff of Novato have returned from an eight week Hawaiian vacation, their fourth vacation to the islands.

Sausalito Pair Wed

Barbara Ann Muhlhauser and Arthur Gordon Lewis, both of Sausalito, were married in a 3 p.m. ceremony at the Presbyterian Church in Sausalito.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Charles Muhlhauser of Cleveland, Ohio, had as her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Ethan Feinsod of Chicago, Ill. Robert J. Lewis of Oakland was best man for his brothers. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lewis of Santa Rosa.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. On their return from a wedding trip to Baja they will live in Sausalito.

The bride is a graduate of Laurel High School in Cleveland and attended Northwestern University. Before her marriage she was employed as a measurements analyst with California Blue Shield.

The bridegroom was graduated from Santa Rosa High School and Occidental College and holds a master's degree from the University of Southern California. He is employed as supervisor for the management services department of California Blue Shield.

JUST STANDING AROUND

Yoga enthusiast Mrs. Eddi Patrick of Flagstaff, Ariz., demonstrated an exercise in front of a downtown St. Paul, Minn., store, much to the surprise of sidewalk shoppers. She was a contestant in the Mrs. America contest held Friday night in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area. Despite Mrs. Patrick's efforts, Mrs. M. Byron Fisher of Salt Lake City was crowned Mrs. America.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

How Dear Should The 'Dear' In The Salutation Be Intended?

DEAR HELEN:

Why are so many people reluctant to use our names in greeting us? For example, I say "Hello, John" and John replies "Hello," or maybe just a nod or a grunt. John knows my name. Why can't he say it? Some people I've known 20 years, and if they ever greet me by name, it will be the first time.

Another question: A young friend of mine argues it is dishonest to begin a letter with "Dear" so-and-so, unless he or she is really "dear" to you. So his salutation is simply, "Arthur:" or "Hi:" I was taught that "Dear Arthur:" is just plain courtesy and does not necessarily mean affection. Who's right?—ARTHUR.

DEAR ARTHUR:

I'm the reactionary type who likes "Dear Arthur:" and if I want to show affection, I say, "Arthur, dear." However, many young people these days are getting away from the "dear," even if they sign their letters, "Love Always."

Name calling? Those who don't greet a friend by name, and repeat it casually in conversation, should practice up. Nothing is sweeter to one than the sound of his own name, for it makes him feel singled out and special. Salesmen know this. So do expert letterwriters. But often friends forget.

Thanks for the reminder, Arthur.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Shouldn't a 17-year-old girl eat dinner with her family? Our daughter fills her plate, then goes to her room to eat and read. If I raise the roof and tell her she has to be at table as this is the only chance we have to discuss our problems, she gulps her food and leaves. Never listens to a thing I say and she should, because she needs to shape up, being headstrong and impatient as well as lazy about her homework. Please tell her how wrong she is, as she reads your column.—SNUBBED

DEAR SNUBBED:

When a mother serves problems, garnished with criticism and seasoned with nags, she can expect a fast retreat from the dinner table. Could this be the trouble at your house?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

This is a belated reply to "Against Tricky Handouts," the woman who thinks free summer camp for her city youngster is the politicians' sneaky way of getting votes.

I work at one of those camps, so I wasn't shocked at the letter. I've heard worse. But let me tell her, most camp workers are unpaid volunteers who either gave up their vacations to help or turned down good summer jobs.

Poison oak, germs, boys and girls holding hands? Oh, really! For some of these kids, it's a first experience with clean air away from back alleys and hot pavements. They love it, and they get the best of care, good food, fun. Up here they learn more important things than bitterness and hatred.

Why do we volunteer, when so many parents don't seem to appreciate what we offer? Because we believe in what we are doing, and the kids believe in us. There's a lot of truth in that old cliche, "The more you give the more you receive." Otherwise it wouldn't be so worn out from use.

A.T.H.'s whole letter was asking suspiciously, "Why are they so interested in my son and my life?" Well, she just might call it an investment in our future.—V FOR VOLUNTEER

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Two weeks of travel in Brittany and Normandy will precede her enrollment in the Paris center.

Student Describes Indonesia

delighted when my Indonesian father, who is a doctor, pierced my ears for me, because the earrings are very pretty, and that type of earring is very much in style here."

IN COMPARING THE young people in Indonesia to those in this country, Marcie said they are willing to try something new — for example she said the 17-year-old son in her family liked crazy clothes — but that there is nothing like the hippies or drug use there.

"I was amazed at the change in just one year here," she admitted. "You are not shocked to talk to one of your friends and find he has been trying out marijuana. There seems to be a lot of pressure on young people, and they don't know how to handle it. They get into drugs as an experiment and then get hooked.

"There seems to be not only a generation gap but a whole new culture gap."

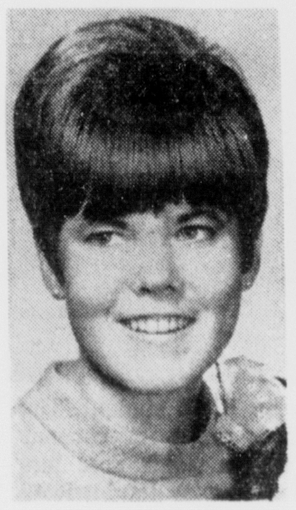
Marcie took some private lessons in classic Javanese dance, for she has always been interested in dance, having studied with Dick Ford in Mill Valley from the age of five until she was in high school.

She also was able to travel around the country, mostly to other parts of the island of Java, and to the island of Bali, which was very beautiful, she said.

THERE IS A racial problem in Indonesia, too, Marcie noted, that involves tensions between the Indonesians and Chinese immigrants who have economic power. The government is trying to force them to become citizens, and they are resisting, she said.

In the fall Marcie plans to attend Merrell College of the University of California at Santa Cruz.

"I don't know what my major will be," she said, "but I understand there is the opportunity there to work especially with social and economic problems dealing with race and poverty issues in the United States and abroad."



PHYLLIS MIZELL

Brayton-Flint Married At St. Stephens Church

St. Stephens Episcopal Church in Belvedere was the setting for the marriage of Nancy Flint and Robert Brayton at 2 o'clock Saturday.

Maid of honor for her sister was Susy Flint of Belvedere. Reynolds of Montreal, Canada, Christine Standley of Sacramento and Mrs. Robert Culbertson of San Francisco.

The bridegroom's cousin, John Brayton of Chico, was best man. Assisting wedding guests to their places were Kevin Crotty of San Francisco, James Coffrey of San Francisco, Michael Wiebe of Sacramento and Don Wolford of Redding.

Nancy is a graduate of Redwood High School and attended Chico State College.

Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F .D. Brayton of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Lowell High School and Chico State College. He attended graduate school at the University of California at Davis.

After a wedding trip to Oregon, the couple will live in La Selva Beach. The bridegroom is employed as a teacher at Watsonville High School in Watsonville.

Reed School District Staff To Be Honored By Clubs

Six luncheons at private homes on the Tiburon peninsual will honor teachers, principals, trustees and staff members of the Reed Union School District beginning at 12:30 p.m. Thursday.

Arrangements for the hospitality are being made by the Reed District Parent-Teachers Club, with hostesses and committees representing each of the six schools in the district.

The Del Mar School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Charles M. Denton in Tiburon, with Mrs. Robert Seitas, chairman H. Joseph Edgington, district superintendent, and Mrs. Edward P. Ward, Reed District P-TC president will attend this luncheon.

The Bel Aire School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Louis, chairman, in Tiburon.

The Belvedere School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. George K. Whitney in Belvedere, with Mrs. James Atkin, chairman.

The Granada School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Herbert R. Husen in Corte Madera. Mrs. Walter Nagel is chairman. New teachers being welcomed by this group are Mrs. Diane Bright, Miss Ann Burke, John Lisanti, Jon Mitchell, Ira Potovsky and Mrs. Barbara Walters.

The Reed School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. K. L. Rice Jr. in Tiburon, with Mrs. Robert Imel, chairman.

The Tiburon School unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Geoffrey Knight, with Mrs. Charles Bassett, chairman.

THE JACK and Jill branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers will begin the year's activities at Keil Cove, Tiburon, Saturday. Picnicking, tennis and swimming will take place beginning at noon. The annual Taverna will be held in the evening.

New members are Messrs. and Mesdames Gardiner Baldwin, Harlan Barry, Lee Brand, John Fassio, Anthony Friscia, Fred Giles, Edwin L. Griffith Jr., Henry Ingwersen, Jeffrey Skov and Ronald Tatum.

MARION HAYES CAIN is attending the conference of the National Children's Theater Department of the American Educational Theater Association at San Fernando Valley State College. She has been asked to show slides of her Magic Circle performances.

On her return to Marin, Mrs. Cain will begin organizing the season's activities for the Magic Circle, which has headquarters at the Art and Garden Center in Ross.

At the end of September, the circle will present "The Pranks of Merry Tyll" for children, out-of-doors on the Northgate stage. In November, a new production of Hiawatha will begin its tour of the San Francisco Bay Area.

Registration for the Magic Circle classes on drama for children will begin the second week of September. A new addition — The Young Teens — will be organized. Mrs. Cain will be assisted in the direction of this group by Greg Norgaard, a young actor and director, who appeared at the College of Marin last year.

BOARD MEMBERS and class chairmen of the Mill Valley Chapter of the Pacific dance Guild will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Dick Ford Dance Stuido in Mill Valley for a coffee hour and planning session for fall dance classes.

The purpose of the guild is to promote interest in dance and other art forms. This is done in several ways, such as bringing artists to the Bay Area for performances and master classes, securing tickets and arranging transportation for students and members to programs throughout the Bay Area.

Further information regarding the guild or classes may be obtained by calling the guild office in Mill Valley or Mrs. Faulk, coordinator of classes, who lives in Mill Valley.

THE CAPE CAPER

It's chic to look like Sherlock this fall. The Baker Street favorite has come into fashion and the famous Sherlock Holmes cape is this season's newest caper.

Caped and coated is a super way to add drama to your winter wardrobe and designers have done the look in a multitude of ways.

Fabric is important to this latest look in fall coats. There are tweeds, "cuir sauvage" leathers and men's wear plaids. But one of the freshest innovations is wide wale corduroy in both evenly cut and sculptured high piles. The cut of the corduroy adds to the drama of the styling and gives the cape a luxurious hand.

State Fair Opens At New Location

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The accent was on newness as California's state fair began its 115th annual run today featuring a new location, new price and a widely praised new race track.

STILL BUILDING

Work is still going strong on the new facility, and the areas completed are surrounded by acres of dust. When completed, the new California Exposition and State Fair will be a year-round monument of the Golden State to itself.

In past years, the fair was held at a site near downtown Sacramento and pretty much closed down after the two-week run. But the new exposition, which opened July 1, is intended as a year-round affair, although it will close down for the winter after the fair ends.

This year's fair runs from today through Sept. 10.

In past years it cost $1 to get into the fair, with children under 12 and servicemen in uniform admitted free. Now, the price is $1.50 for adults, 50 cents for children from 6 through 12, and free for those under six. Discount books are available.

RACE TRACK

Of major interest is the new race track and grandstand, which can seat 6,000 persons and accomodate another 20,000. A posh restaurant and bar is atop the grandstand.

The $5 million plant will stage 14 days of racing, starting with the $5,000-added Cal Expo Express feature today. Two harness and two quarter horse races will precede each day's eight thoroughbred gallops.

Salkinds Perform Polished Favorites

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Marin music lovers had one of their rare opportunities yesterday afternoon at Forest Meadows to hear in Marin the internationally known duo pianists Milton and Peggy Salkind.

Althought the husband-wife team from Mill Valley has lived in Marin about 18 years, they have seldom appeared in a major concert such as this third in the current music chest concert series.

The Salkinds presented a program consisting largely of what might be called their signature works, that is, compositions they have performed so frequently that one looks for them in their recitals.

While the appeal of novelty is thus lacking, the advantage is that they are polished to perfection with all nuances subtly realized. Furthermore, the works are gems of the repertoire for four hands, one piano, and as such bear the repetition that only classics can survive.

These signature works were the great Schubert Fantasy in F Minor, Opus 103 and two programmatic suites, Ravel's "Ma Mere l'Oye" ("Mother Goose") and Bizet's "Jeux d'Enfants" ("Children's Games").

The Salkinds playing of the fantasy showed a profound appreciation for its structural form that includes a fugue, and deep emotional rapport with the hauntingly memorable song-like and infinitely sad theme. It was an excellent example of the admirable balance the Salkinds maintain between intellectual and emotional elements.

Their performances of the "Mother Goose" with its five vignettes and "Children's Games," with six, showed their command of split second timing, closely knit ensemble work and ability to convey wide differences in mood. The crystalline clarity of each note in all of these little pictures was remarkable.

Enhancing this effect were atmospheric conditions that seemed to be just right for best acoustical clarity. Changing our place several times, we discovered that the best place to hear anything percussive or in high register especially is in the center rear, where one can best avoid the distortions occasioned by the loud speakers.

This exquisite clarity of notes was also evident in the opening Mozart Sonata in B Flat, K. 338. Poulenc's delightful sonata was the only selection with a near contemporary sound, rather surprising since the Slakind's are noted for their commissioning of works by contemporary composers.

Interesting mostly from the historical standpoint were Chopin's variaton on a "Carnival in Venice" folk theme. It has the unmistakable lyrical Chopin sound, but it is not great Chopin and in parts even sounds childish, as one might expect, since Chopin wrote it at the age of 15.

For an encore the Salkinds played three charming Brahms waltzes.

Dates To Play

Tryouts for the Terra Linda Players' upcoming production of "Bus Stop" will be held at 8 p.m. Sept. 3 and 4 in the American Savings and Loan Association community room, 550 Las Gallinas Avenue, Northgate. The play opens Oct. 25 at the Terra Linda Recreation Center.

Concert Funds To Benefit Biafra Airlift

Prior to last night's concert, a spokesman said, more than $7,000 had been collected.

Among the speakers at Town Hall was Rev. Dermot Doran, who has been a missionary in Biafra for seven years.

Doran said he will join a group that has an appointment today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He did not elaborate.

Said Doran: "I can tell you from personal observation at least 3,000 Biafrans are dying daily from malnutrition and that is a very, very conservative figure."

The greater metropolitan San Juan, Puerto Rico, area has 140 square miles and an estimated population of 750,000 persons.

Tree Cutter Accused Of $23,910 Fraud

A 36-year-old San Rafael man was booked at Marin County jail yesterday on suspicion of defrauding a 70-year-old Tamalpais Valley woman of $23,910.

Harold Lee Burr of 25 Hart Avenue, said to have obtained the funds over the past four months, was charged with grand theft and held under $6,250 bail. He was scheduled for arraignment this afternoon.

Deputies said the victim, Laura Treat of 126 Morningsun Avenue reported that she had advanced varying sums to Burr for a "large contract" he reportedly had to fell trees along the north side of Mount Tamalpais for a roadway.

Burr, who was felling trees next door to her home April 8, told her he had a chance "to take over a large contract," but needed $225 for a bond, Miss Treat reported.

She advanced him the $225, and then he needed $300 "to join the union," she said. From then until this month it was reports of broken equipment and the need for more money, Miss Treat said.

When she didn't get any check from the alleged contractor, she went to her attorney, Robert F. MacKay of San Rafael, she said.

MacKay found that Burr was not a licensed contractor and there was no Las Vegas Construction Co. registered as a firm doing business in California, deputies reported.

Primitive Weaving Course To Be Offered

A course in primitive weaving, taught by Ida Dean Grae of Mill Valley, will be held at Dominican College in San Rafael beginning Sept. 9.

The class will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. on Mondays. Those interested in the program may register at the college on Aug. 31.

Wallet Stolen

San Rafael police reported yesterday that R. H. Scettrini of 257 Woodland Avenue had complained Friday that his wallet containing $40 was taken from his car while it was parked at Francisco Boulevard and Hoag Street between 11:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday morning.

It's Already 'Big Game' Grid Week In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Already it's Big Game Week—pro football-wise—in the Bay Area, and it's still two weeks and more until the regular American and National Football League seasons open.

The AFL champion Oakland Raiders clash Sunday with the NFL San Francisco 49ers. The game looms as a near-60,000 sellout in Kezar Stadium—the first sellout there since Detroit beat the 49ers for the NFL Western Division championship in 1957.

REVENGE

San Francisco defeated the Raiders, 13-10, in Oakland Coliseum to inaugurate this transbay series last August.

The Raiders cooled down with an equally surprising 21-31 loss to the AFL Chiefs in Kansas City Saturday night.

The 49ers expect to have offensive tackle Len Rohde, back injury, and strong safety Al Randolph, knee sprain, back in the starting lineup.

MIRA TO START

Coach Dick Nolan indicated that George Mira would start at quarterback for the 49ers in his rotation plan. John Brodie will take over in the second half. Mira disclosed he has been suffering three weeks with a stomach muscle pull, but is anxious for the start.

The Raiders' AFL Coach of the Year, John Rauch, will start his AFL Player of the Year Daryle Lamonica at quarterback.

Despite considerable pressure from the top, both coaches are expected to continue looking critically at several players on the fringe list. It's near cutdown time.

RALLY

Lamonica rallied the Raiders from 0-14 to 14-21 at halftime in Kansas City, then turned the quarterbacking over to veteran George Blanda, who directed a third touchdown drive.

But three costly errors by the Raiders had handed the Chiefs three quick touchdowns — two within four minutes — and the game.

Chiefs quarterback Len Dawson converted a recovered Raider fumble and an intercepted pass into a 39-yard TD pass to Otis Taylor and a 25-yard TD toss to Frank Pitts.

Throng Of 800 Runs In Historic Dipsea Race

Tiburon Man, 40, Wins First Place

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

It was like a scene out of Exodus.

Mill Valley Police Chief Daniel Terzich swaggered out into the middle of the throng, whipped out his trusty .38, shouted something that sounded like, "Get out of town you varmints," and blasted away.

With that, a gent who resembed Cecil B. DeMille hollered, "Lights, camera . . . ACTION!"

And with that, more than 800 men, women and children, dressed in their underwear, started running like hell for Stinson Beach, some 6.8 mountainous miles away, irrigating Mount Tamalpais with their perspiration along the way.

58TH RUNNING

It was the 58th running of the famed Dipsea Race and when the dust had settled a Tiburon man proved that life, indeed, begins at 40.

Donald S. Pickett, who trained in such exotic far-away places as Singapore, Manila, the Trinity Alps and the Tiburon Peninsula, won the Amateur Athletic Union-sanctioned race with a blaze of speed down the home stretch.

Pickett shared the Dipsea spotlight with a little doll eight times his junior. If you don't believe that a five-year-old girl could run one of America's toughest cross-country races, read on.

Galloping out of the fog-shrouded hills above Stinson Beach, Pickett, who admits to 40 summers on this earth, overcame two early leaders in the last quarter mile to win in a stirring finish.

FATHER OF THREE

Pickett, a father of three, whose import-export business takes him to the Far East on occasions, said Sayanora to the record field near the finish. Running third with only a quarter-mile to go, he passed defending champion, 63-year-old Jack Kirk at that point, and then barrelled down on 11-year-old Michael Brian Wolford, passing him 200 yards from the finish.

Pickett, who says he runs these races" . . . because it's better than sitting around sipping martinis," was clocked in 46 minutes, 14 seconds. With his eight minute handicap, his actual time was 54:14. Young Wolford, a four-foot, eight-inch, 70-pound fifth grade student from Oakhurst, Madera County, finished seven second behind the handsome winner.

35th RACE

Kirk, a truck driver from Mariposa, who was running his 35th Dipsea race and seeking his third victory, finished at 46:51, 30 seconds behind the itty-bitty Wolford.

Byron J. Lowry, a 21-year-old San Jose State senior, recorded the fastest time of 47:51, only 29 seconds off the Dipsea record of 47.22 set in 1937 by Norman Bright of the Olympic Club. It was a fantastic performance in Giants Return To S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Did Herman Franks stay too long at the Fair?

He might have yesterday when he let Juan Marichal go all the way on a day the ace San Francisco Giants righthander didn't have his good stuff. As a result, the Los Angeles Dodgers tagged Juan for 12 hits and beat him, 6-5.

9-4 MARK

The loss came as the windup to one of the Giants' best road trips in many a moon. It represented only the fourth setback in 13 road games and brought the Giants home to Candlestick Park today for the start of a seven-game one week homestand, which will be the club's next to last of the 1968 season.

The Chicago Cubs are the opposition today and they are one of three clubs (Cincinnati and Atlanta are the others) battling the Giants for second place and the nearly $2,000 per man such a finish will produce.

PERRY

Bill Hands, an ex-Giant, brought a 14-7 mark into today's game and was to pitch against San Francisco's Gaylord Perry, who was 12-11. The Cubs finish their 1968 schedule in Candlestick Park tomorrow night with Rich Nye or Joe Niekro pitching against Bobby Bolin.

The Dodgers, lightest hitting team in the National League this season, handed the Giants three unearned runs but kept coming back against Marichal, whose 30-victory quest took a severe jolt. Perhaps because Marichal is shooting for that lofty mark Franks stayed with him longer than necessary.

IN NINTH

In any event, the Dodgers won the game in the ninth when the laboring Marichal gave up an inning opening single to Tom Haller. Ron Fairly bunted back to the mound and Marichal threw the ball into centerfield while trying to head off Haller at second. Haller continued to third and Fairly to second.

Len Gabrielson was walked intentionally but the Giants erased Haller at the plate on Ken Boyer's fielder's choice. Then the light hitting Paul Popovich hit a sacrifice fly to score Fairly with the winner.

The Giants managed eight hits and all their runs off Claude Osteen but were held hitless by Jim Brewer over the final 2 2-3 innings.

'Pitcher' Bob Murphy Wins Philly Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It's hard to believe that eight years ago Bob Murphy didn't even want to play.

Murphy was a pitcher and he had major league baseball aspirations. Shortly before he enrolled at the University of Florida, however, he suffered a shoulder separation. His baseball career was dead.

So, Florida U. golf Coach Conrad Rehling urged Murphy to take up golf. Murphy went on to become NCAA and U.S. Amteur champion. Last January he started on the pro tour.

Murphy reached some sort of personal pinnacle yesterday when he won his first pro tournament, the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic. He did it the hard way, too, in a sudden-death playoff with Labron Harris, another former National Amateur champion.

Harris was seeking his first win after four years as a regular on the tour.

"It's just fantastic," said the 210-pound Murphy after he dropped in a 15-foot putt on the third extra hole to earn the $20,000 first prize and boost his first-year earnings to $64,245.

"It really means a lot to me," said Murphy as he sat with his pretty wife, Gail, and talked of his victory. "It means an invite to all the rest of the tournaments without those Monday qualifying rounds.

The 25-year-old Murphy posted rounds of 69, 71, 66, 70 for a 72-hole total of 276 to finish in a 12-under-par tie with Harris in the four-day competition on the per 36-36—72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course.

Harris had 71, 67, 70, 68 and watched as Murphy missed winning in regulation when a 12-foot birdie putt on the 18th green

Golf Victory For Kathy Whitworth

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (UPI)—Kathy Whitworth is only 29 years old, but she's an old pro when the chips are down and the big money is at stake.

It was a difference of $2,000 on almost every shot in the payoff round of the third annual Ladies World Series of Golf yesterday, and Kathy's steady and unsensational play was the difference between her and long-hitting Carol Mann.

Miss Whitworth entered the back nine in the final round of the 36-hole LPGA series one stroke behind tall and tanned Carol, who looked as if she would pull away from the six-girl field.

But on the next four holes, classy Kathy made up a total of five strokes on Carol, pulling away to a four-stroke margin. From there on, it was all downhill for the slim Miss Whitworth, who took the $10,000 first prize for the second consecutive year.

Kathy fired a pair of 69s en route to her six-under par performance over the par-72, 6,194-yard Snider Park course here. Miss Mann wound up with a 70-72—K42 total for $8,000, and third-place Sandra Haynie collected $6,000 for her one-under par 72-71—143.

BALTIMORE, FIRST STOP

A's To Begin Important Road Trip

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Oakland Athletics start a nine-game road trip tonight in a nest of hungry birds and Manager Bob Kennedy believes it could determine whether Oakland will finish in the American League's first division.

"This could be our most important trip of the season," Kennedy said after his fifth-place Athletics dropped a 5-1 decision yesterday to the California Angels. "It will certainly be our toughest," he added.

Oakland takes on the second-place Orioles in Baltimore with the first of back-to-back doubleheaders, sending Chuck Dobson, 10-11, and Jim Hunter, 10-11, against Baltimore's Dave McNally, 16-8, and Gene Brabender, 5-4, in tonight's twi-nighter.

The Athletics then invade Boston for two games with the fourth-place Rex Sox before returning to the West Coast for a three-game weekend set with the Angels at Anaheim.

California snapped Oakland's modest four-game winning streak yesterday as left-hander George Brunet, 13-12, hurled a solid six-hitter to top Jim Nash, 10-10.

Brunet had a perfect game for 4⅓ innings and blanked Oakland until there were two outs in the ninth inning.

"I was mad at myself when they scored," Brunet said. "I hated to get that close to a shutout and not get it."

Pinch-hitter Allen Lewis singled to open the ninth, but Brunet got the next two batters. Then Danny Cater singled to score Lewis.

They widened their lead to 3-0 in the fifth when Rick Reichhardt, Don Mincher and Bobby Knoop singled for two more runs.

Arthur Ashe First Negro To Win U.S. Amateur Tennis Crown

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI)—The gallery of 4,000 was torn by conflicting emotion as Negro Arthur Ashe made his relentless way to the top of the amateur tennis heap by bursting the bubble of success fashioned over a gruelling week by young Bobby Lutz.

Lutz was clearly the popular favorite during the 88th National Tennis Championships. He'd built a fantastic following among the customers during a series of singles upsets which he interrupted only briefly to win the doubles title with Stan Smith.

CALM

But Ashe was the first of his race to ever ascent the men's amateur tennis ladder. He was in his ninth year of trying in the nationals and maintained an almost stoic calm while his younger opponent specialized in the sensational shots and a tumbling style that badly stained his sweat-soaked tennis togs.

When Ashe, 25, the top seeded entry, ultimately became the first U.S. citizen in 15 years to capture the nation's tennis title, the crowd gave both players a standing ovation. The scores were 4-6, 6-3, 8-10, 6-0, 6-4.

EXHAUSTED

Lutz, obviously exhausted by the more than 2½ hours of tennis in humid, near-100 degree temperatures, was speechless for minutes. He accepted the second place trophy and turned, wordless, from the microphone.

Army 1st lt. Ashe, his calm, reserved manner still in place, accepted his huge trophy and traded gentle jibes with the Secretary of the Navy, Paul R. Ignatius, who presented the award.

PRAISE

Ashe quickly praised his young Davis Cup teammate for his play, promised the crowd a Davis Cup in December, and retired to discuss eloquently on television his role as the first Negro ever to capture a major men's tennis title.

Because they have been playing steadily and under heavy pressure for the past couple of weeks, both men's finalists were expected to abandon the courts until Thursday when the first U.S. Open gets underway.

NOT AGAINST CARDINALS

It Doesn't Pay To Err

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

It might be human to err, but it doesn't pay to overdo it when you're playing the St. Louis Cardinals.

Pittsburgh pitching limited National League-leading St. Louis to just four hits yesterday, but the Pirates committed four errors and the Cardinals used them for a 4-2 victory.

The Pirates pounded out eight hits, but the St. Louis defense was flawless in support of Nelson Briles, 17-8, and Joe Hoerner, who relieved and put down a Pittsburgh threat in the eighth inning.

In other National League games, the Chicago Cubs blanked Houston 2-0, Los Angeles edged San Francisco 5-4, Philadelphia topped Atlanta 4-1 and the New York Mets pounded Cincinnati 7-1.

The Cardinals scored in the second inning. Orlando Cepeda walked, stole second, moved to third on a groundout and scored when shortstop Fred Patek fielded Mike Shannon's grounder and made a poor throw to first.

St. Louis added a run in the fourth when Shannon reached first on third baseman Maury Wills' throwing error and scored when Julian Javier's single got past right fielder Gary Kolb for an error.

The clinching run came in the fifth when Lou Brock scored from second as first baseman Donn Clendenon missed a throw from pitcher Dock Ellis, who had fielded Bob Tolan's grounder.

Shannon's single and Javier's double produced the final St. Louis run in the sixth.

Matty Alou singled in a run after Hoerner replaced Briles with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth. Hoerner then struck out the next two men to end the threat. Manny Mota hit a pinch homer for the Pirates in the ninth.

Ferguson Jenkins pitched a four-hitter and drove in a run with a groundout as Chicago snapped Houston's six-game winning streak and handed Larry Dierker his first loss since June 20. Dierker, who had won six in a row, now is 12-11.

Jenkins, 15-12 drove in the Cubs's first run in the second inning. Glenn Beckert's single, Billy Williams' double and Willie Smith's sacrifice fly produced the other run.

Larry Jackson, 12-15, scattered five hits and Johnny Callison, back in the line-up after an eight-day absence because of a pulled hamstring, homered and singled in a run in Philadelphia's triumph. Hank Aaron hit his 24th homer for Atlanta.

Tom Seaver threw a five-hitter and smacked a two-run double in leading the Mets over Cincinnati. Ed Kranepool and Art Shamsky backed Seaver, 12-9, with solo homers.

John Bench scored Cincinnati's only run when he led off the eighth with a double, moved to third on a groundout and came home on Seaver's wild pitch.

U.S. Will Have A Strong Diving Team For Olympics

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — It'll be a strong U.S. diving team that competes in this year's Olympic Games in Mexico City. Strong in more than just ability.

Winners of the four events this past weekend showed great muscle control and grace in capturing berths on the U.S. team. And Jim Henry, winner of the 3-meter springboard event, might have spoken for the rest.

"I like to use my strength and stay away from the board," he said after easily defeating Keith Russell and Bernie Wrightson for top honors. All three will go to the Games, however.

Keala O'Sullivan, a slight 17-year-old from Honolulu, won the women's 3-meter springboard competition without using too much "muscle" but pretty Ann Peterson said she used her strength in winning the women's 10-meter platform event.

NOVATO NINE ELIMINATED IN TOURNEY

Novato's Annex Motors baseball team was eliminated in the Joe Di Maggio World Series Saturday when it lost to Los Angeles 3-2. The Novatans had earlier advanced with a 2-1 triumph over Stockton earlier in the day.

Tom Zechlin tossed a four-hitter in the Novato victory, and Russ Dillon had the big blow, a game-winning two-run double in the bottom of the seventh.

Steve McNally was stung with the loss in the second game. Glenn Holsclaw and McNally each went 2-for-3.

After the game, the team voted Rick Denning the team's most valuable player in the tourney. Denning batted .351 for the five games.

The two nonwinners headed for the 15th tee and their sudden-death encounter. They each carded pars on 15 and 16, although Murphy had to recover from the woods on the first overtime hole.

On the 485-yard, par-5 17th, Murphy was in a trap to the left of the green in two. Harris was short of the green in the rough, also lying two.

Murphy blasted out to within 15 feet of the pin, while Harris chipped eight feet past the cup. Putting first, the 5-foot-10 Murphy calmly rooled the ball in for a birdie-4. Harris, who had made a fine, last-round charge to gain the tie, was about 18 inches to the right with his pressure effect to maintain the deadlock.

Murphy led by a stroke starting the final 18 holes. He bogeyed the first two holes yesterday and trailed by five after the first nine.

"I never lost my cool," he said explaining his four-birdie surge on the back nine while the others, with the exception of Harris, were sliding back.

Third place went to Dudley Wysong, who scored a finishing two-under-par 70, including a 150-yard approach shot which went into the cup of the sixth hole on the fly for an eagle. Wysong wound up one stroke off the pace at 277.

Gals Snap Swimming Records

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World records were in peril today in the third session of the five-day U.S. women's Olympic swimming trials.

Events to be settled today in the bids for berths on the Olympic team bound for Mexico were the 100-meter backstroke, 200-meter breaststroke and 200-meter butterfly.

Successive world record performances came Saturday and yesterday from Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, in the 200 and 400-meter freestyle, and Claudia Kolb of the Santa Clara Swim Club in the 400 and 200- meter individual medley.

Miss Meyer, 16, who confesses she is a peanut butter and jelly sandwich addict, began the record smashing with 2:06.7 in the 200. It bettered the pending 2.08.8 by Eadie Wetzel, Lake Forest, Ill., SC, set last Aug. 2.

Miss Ball's 1:14.2 yesterday broke the 1:14.6 she set at Philadelphia Aug. 19, 1967.

Joining Catie in the two plaves open in the breaststroke was Sharon Wichman, Ft. Wayne, Ind., who swam 1:15.5.

Susan Pedersen, Arden Hills, (Sacramento) SC, 2:25.4, and Jan Henne, Santa Clara SC, also 2:25.5, join Miss Kolb as medley swimmers.

U.S. Women Have Speed. No Brawn

Two days of Olympic Trials at Mt. San Antonio College showed that once again at Mexico in October, the chances for gold medals in women's track and field rest with the speedsters.

Wyomia Tyus, a 23-year-old defending 100-meter champion, and 17-year-old Margaret Johnson Bailes of Eugene, Ore., provide a one-two punch in the spring with Barbara Ferrell of Los Angeles to back them up with her 5-feet-2 and 103 pounds.

Bailes won the 200 trials but was upset by Tyus in the 100 last night. Both were clocked in 11.3. At the AAU Championship the week before, the outcomes had been just the opposite.

Jarvis Scott, a 21-year-old collegian from Los Angeles, won the 400 in 53.5 seconds, a clear victory over Lois Drinkwater a 17-year-old from Phoenix, Ariz., 54.0, and Esther Stroy of Washington, D.C., youngest gal on the track team at 15.

All the runners meet Olympic qualifying standards but not so in the weight event. Just one qualifies in the javelin, one in the discus, and no shotputters has the required 52 feet.

Maren Seidler, a 17-year-old from Plainfield, N.J., makes the trip to Mexico City since she won the trials with a shot put of 50-1¾.

Olga Fikotova Connolly, who won the discus gold medal for her native Czechoslovakia in 1956, and met her husband to be during those Olympics in Melbourne, threw 175 feet, second best of her career.

So at 36 and the mother of four, Mrs. Connolly competes in her fourth Olympics.

She hopes she can improve to 190 and also hopes her husband, Harold Connolly, who won the gold medal in 1956 in the hammer throw, will qualify for the men's team.

Foremsky Leads Keg Tourney

MONTREAL (AP) — Skee Foremsky is one victory away from winning his first Professional Bowlers Association tournament title this year in the finals of the $30,000 Canadian Open.

The 31-year-old left-hander from El Paso, Tex., led four other finalists into today's play with a pin total of 8,913 for 40 games. This included 600 bonus pins he collected for winning 12 of his 16 matches in yesterday's semifinals.

Joining Foremsky in Monday's finals are Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., Dave Davis of Phoenix, Arix, Don Russell of San Diego, and Don Helling of St. Louis.

The winner will take home the $3,000 first-place prize.

PRO FOOTBALL HIGHLIGHTS

Cincinnati Bengals Surprise Steelers, 19-3

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Steelers are not expected to win the National Football League title this season, but they do lead the league in embarrassment.

On the other hand, the Cincinnati Bengals, a last place choice as the American League's newest team, top their league in surprises.

Both teams climbed to the front yesterday when the Bengays shocked the Steelers 19-3 in an exhibition game at Morgantown, W.VA., for their first victory after three losses.

Cincinnati's triumph gave the AFL a stunning 10-5 bulge over the chagrinned NFL in interleague exhibitions, and with only eight such contests remaining, the NFL would have to win seven to come out on top.

The only other contest yesterday matched two NFL clubs and St. Louis scored a safety and a touchdown in the final quarter to beat the New York Giants 18-10 at New Haven, Conn.

Cincinnati gave the AFL a sweep of its two weekend interleague games as San Diego embarrassed the Los Angeles Rams 35-13 Saturday night.

In other games Saturday, Green Bay held off Dallas 31-27, Minnesota bombed Philadelphia 52-10, Chicago clobbered Washington 45-13 and New Orleans outscored Cleveland 40-27 in the NFL, and Kansas City downed Oakland 31-21 in the AFL.

Pittsburgh is supposed to lose some games, but Cincinnati is not expected to win very many. Adding insult to injury, the Bengals allowed the Steelers past midfield only once on their own power, and rookie quarterback Dewey Warren set up three touchdowns with his passing. The combination gave Paul Brown his first victory since returning to coaching after an illustrious career leading Cleveland.

Warren completed 12 of 21 passes for 268 yards in outpassing veteran Kent Nix, who hit only five of 20 for 64 yards.

The Steelers, playing without both its regular wide receivers and both regular running backs because of injuries, scored only on Bill Shockley's 33-yard field goal in the first half.

The Cardinals, managing only three field goals by Jim Bakken for three quarters, were losing 10-9 when a high pass from center went over punter Ernie Koy's head in the end zone for a safety and an 11-10 lead.

Minutes later, quarterback Charley Johnson, on leave from the Army and taking over from Jim Hart in the second half, boot-legged nine yards for a touchdown. Roy Shivers set up the score by returning the free kick after the safety 35 yards.

Green Bay avoided the embarrassment of losing three straight exhibition games by building a 31-10 lead against Dallas in a rematch of last year's NFL title contest. Craig Morton's two scoring passes brought the Cowboys back, but an on-side kickoff failed after the last touchdown as the game ended.

John Hadl sparked San Diego with early touchdown tosses of 45 yards to Jacques MacKinnon and 68 yards to Lance Alworth, and Dennis Partee added three field goals to drop the Rams.

Clint Jones scored two touchdowns and set up another and a field goal with his running for Minnesota. Dick Gordon caught three touchdown passes, two from Jack Concannon, in Chicago's romp.

New Orleans pulled away on Bill Kilmer's two scoring passes and Charlie Durkee's four field goals, and Kansas City, 4-0, relied on Len Dawson's two touchdown passes.

Drysdale Strains Shoulder Muscle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers announced yesterday that star right-hander Don Drysdale strained a muscle in his right shoulder Saturday night and will miss at least his next starting turn.

Drysdale, 14-12, suffered the injury when he struck out Dick Dietz in the fifth inning of a game San Francisco won from the Dodgers, 9-7. Drysdale was given a cortisone shot in the shoulder yesterday.

Earlier this season, the 32-year-old right-hander set records by hurling six straight shutouts and 58 consecutive scoreless innings.

Tigers' Al Kaline Is Out Of Lineup

NEW YORK (AP) Outfielder Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers aggravated a groin injury pinch-hitting in the ninth inning of yesterday's second game against the New York Yankees and probably will be out of action for several days.

Kaline pulled a muscle in his groin running out a first game double and did not start in the nightcap. He batted for Tom Matchick in the ninth, swung at one pitch and aggravated the pull.

New Owner Of Marin Dodge Plans Aggressive Sales Drive

There is new ownership at Marin Dodge, Inc., 1075 Francisco Boulevard in San Rafael.

Philip Goodenough has given up his interest in the company. New owner is a previous resident of Marin who has been absent from the county almost four years — Louis Concilio.

During this time, Concilio, former manager of Ames Ford Sales in San Rafael, has been in Redwood City where he as a co-owner in Towne Ford Sales. He has taken up residence at the Cove Apartments in Tiburon.

Since Marin Dodge is a corporation, the name will remain the same. Concilio plans on an aggressive sales campaign for Dodges, Simcas and Sunbeams and building up the used car department. And undoubtedly he will return to writing his former column "It Seems to Me" in the Independent-Journal.

VICTOR A. BAROSSI of San Anselmo is observing his 40th anniversary with Bank of America this week. For the past three years he has been manager of the West Geary branch in San Francisco. He originally went to work for the bank in that city, but he managed the Point Reyes Station branch from 1944 to 1946, the Fairfax branch from 1946 to 1955 and the Hamilton Air Force Base branch until his present assignment.

FILM PRODUCERS SERVICE headed by William Maley, opened at two Marin locations last March (3030 Bridgeway, Sausalito, and 34 De Luca Place, San Rafael), has done so well producing television commercials that more space is required.

Through Herman Deitch, Maley has leased an additional 3,200 square feet at the De Luca address, doubling the size of the former facilities here.

FRANK HOWARD ALLEN AND CO. has acquired the Reedland Woods subdivision number two from Lytton Savings and Loan Association and has appointed John Ribeiro as exclusive builder, beginning with 10 homes on Sept. 2. Rebeiro plans to start with one five-bedroom house and the rest to be three or four-bedroom dwellings. First home is scheduled for completion by Oct. 20. The subdivision is at the end of Blackfield Drive, Tiburon.

J. BERTRAND MORRIS of Larkspur has been appointed western representative for the New York Graphic Society, Ltd., covering eight states. The company publishes fine art prints and other graphics. He was formerly a display advertising salesman for the Independent-Journal.

ATTENDING the recent national convention of Nutrilite Products, Inc., key distributors at Anaheim were Bernard and Arvilla Seligman of Sleepy Hollow and Carl Endemann of Larkspur.

MRS. MARGARET MAROEVICH of Kentfield has been named first prize winner in the 1968 "Schweppestakes" sponsored by the Schweppes Bottling Co. The prize is a trip to London for two via British Overseas Airway. She and her husband will be accompanied on their trip by Mr. and Mrs. Wendell L. Brown, owner of Colonial Liquors in Kentfield. Brown, named Mrs. Maroevich's favorite dealer in the contest, was awarded a duplicate prize.

PAUL J. GIUDICE of San Rafael, salesman for National Distillers Products Co., has won a $100 award in company competition for his Old Crow display in the liquor department at Petrini's in Greenbrae.

FRANK LEVEY of Vogue Cleaners, Mill Valley, is being featured in a Sanitone advertisement appearing in American Drycleaner for August. It was also in the July issue of Textile Services Management.

EDISON BROTHERS STORES, INC., operator of Leed's Qualicraft shoe stores, has reported net income for the 26 weeks ended June 29 at $4.48 million or $1.06 per share of common stock, compared with $3.78 million or 90 cents a share last year after giving effect to the two-for-one split in common stock last April.

FOUR MARIN COUNTY MEN have been appointed or reappointed to committees of the California Bankers Association for the 1968-69 year.

James F. Langton of Mill Valley, vice president and director of public relations at Bank of America in San Francisco, was reappointed to the committee on public relations.

Richard E. Corrick of San Rafael, vice president of Bank of America, San Francisco, was appointed to the committee on bank operations.

William P. Murray Jr. of San Rafael, president of Bank of Marin, is now a member of the committee on legislation and taxation.

Donald E. Seese, vice president and controller at Bank of California, San Francisco, was reappointed to the committee on bank costs.

SANTA FE INTERNATIONAL CORP (formerly Santa Fe Drilling Co.) has gross revenues of $52.2 million for the six months ended June 30, compared with $43.7 million in the first half of 1967. New income was 80 cents per share, compared with 91 cents a year ago, after restating 1967 earning and revenues to reflect the acquisitions of J. H. Pomeroy and Co. and the Caspary-Wendell group of offshore boat service companies.

AMERICAN MOTORS

The 1969 Rebel offers a wide wheel base, new grille, new deck lid and wider deck opening. The Rebel SST two-door hardtop (above) also features wrap-around tail lamp assemblies. There are six models in the Rebel and Rebel SST series. Cars will be available Oct. 1 at Larry Brink Motors, Mill Valley, and Dexter Rambler, San Rafael.

Chain Will Buy Mail Order Firm

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Broadway-Hale Stores Inc. will acquire Sunset House Corp., the nation's largest specialty mail order firm, under an agreement announced by both companies.

Terms of the agreement announced yesterday call for Broadway-Hale to issue one share of a new $2 convertible preferred stock for each two of Sunset's 599,953 outstanding common shares.

Broadway-Hale is the largest department store chain based in the West, with stores in California, Arizona and Nevada. The merger requires approval by shareholders in both firms and by government agencies.

Market Gains Though Early Rise Nipped

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today but trimmed its best early gains. Trading was moderate.

Although there were some encouraging pieces of news, the main reason for the market's rise was technical, brokers said. The gain was a carry-through on relatively slack trading of the advance of late last week.

Industrial blue chips responded to investment demand. Rails and utilities were backward.

The market rose from the start.

Seeburg was active and up more than a point amid rumors that Commonwealth United Corp. is negotiating to acquire Seeburg.

Rexall, Control Data and Ina Corp. were heavily traded gainers of more than a point.

All leading auto stocks were higher, following a prediction by Ford of record sales in the 1969 model year. Previously, Chrysler rose more than a point, the other auto stocks fractions.

Homestake dipped more than a point. Gold prices were lower in Europe.

A rise in machine-tool orders, a hopeful government survey on consumer plans for buying houses and new cars, and a report that an agreement had been reached for withdrawing Soviet troops from Czechoslovakia within two months were among bullish factors.

On the American Stock Exchange the trend was higher in moderate trading.

Sales Reported Up, But Earnings Drop

PALO ALTO (BW) — Hewlett-Packard Co. has reported a 9 per cent gain in sales and a 5 per cent decline in earnings for the nine month period ended July 31.

Sales totaled $196,114,000, compared with $180,174,000 for the first nine months of fiscal 1967. Net earnings amounted to $14,529,000, equal to $1.16 a share on 12,456,101 shares of common stock outstanding.

Stock Offering

PITTSBURGH (BW) — Papercraft Corp. has filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission, covering a proposed offering of 153,389 shares of the company's common stock to be sold from time to time on the New York Stock Exchange. The offering will not be underwritten.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Diversified Metals Called Interesting Speculation

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My wife and I own a large amount of Diversified Metals Corp., bought in the 40s and 50s. Your opinion on holding and your evaluation of its prospects will be greatly appreciated. — O.F.

A. I'd stay with this interesting speculation. You should, however, watch certain factors as earnings reports are released and future acquisitions announced.

One such factor is the earnings dilution percentages from conversion of debentures and exercise of options. This was reported as 23 per cent early in the summer. Closely related are the financing arrangements with two more nonferrous metals companies soon to be acquired and others that may follow.

From all appearances, I believe the company is building an integrated complex in nonferrous metals, starting from its major operation in processing scrap copper and aluminum. One by one it has added manufacturing units using these metals. Surplus scrap is sold to other concerns.

Subsidiaries specialize in manufacturing ball point pens, metal castings for the railroads, auto parts and computer software. Skillful management of these diversification moves suggest good growth potential, but completely successful integration usually brings varied problems.

If prices you mention are not adjusted for the recent 100 per cent stock dividend, you position is indeed favorable for longer term capital gains. If this is your only investment, though, I think I should remind you that wise investors diversify.

Q. Why are there days when I cannot find a quotation of a stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange? Is this a printer's error? — F. P.

A. It could be, although quotations are suprisingly accurate, considering the speed required to transfer them into type with all the day's changes. Some papers print only an abbreviated list of better-known issues. Then, too, some stocks are not traded every day.

Many large metropolitan dailies include a list of these untraded issues from both major exchanges. If your stock is not quoted in a complete list of all trades, look for a supplementary list of bids. You may find it there.

New Electronics Company Is Formed

DALLAS (BW) — Computer Technology, Inc., a new company, has been formed by Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., and LTV Aerospace Corp.

CTI will commence operations with a backlog in excess of $80 million with other than LTV companies. CTI will combine the Dallas-based facilities, resources, personnel and business backlogs of three going businesses, the LTV computer center, the Aerospace Computer Science Services of LTV Aerospace, and Service Technology Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of LTV Aerospace which will operate as a subsidiary of CIT.

More Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — Pan American Airways is expanding its flights from San Francisco to the South Pacific starting Sept. 6, reinstituting direct flights to Sydney from San Francisco, and adding a flight to Auckland via Tahiti.

★QUESTIONS & ANSWERS★ ON SELLING YOUR HOME

Q. Is it a good idea to be around to answer questions when the house is being shown?

A. NO. It is to your advantage and the buyers also if you not be in the home when it is being shown. If questions arise that our salesmen cannot answer, we'll get the information to the buyer at a later date.

If you are considering selling your present home, be sure to enlist the services of a qualified Realtor such as WILLIAM TIMMER. Our knowledge of the market and years of experience will assure you of a successful sale.

SUMMONS
(General)
No. 51799

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin

LYNN FRESE, Plaintiff vs.
THOMAS G. FRESE, Defendant

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to the above named Defendant:

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Microscopic Exam Little Aid In Identifying Prostate Tumor

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the prostate is a maverick among malignancies. Even after a thorough microscopic examination, it is almost impossible to tell how the tumor will behave.

Lethal and the more sluggish forms of the disease are similar when viewed microscopically. On the other hand the outcome is not good when the surgeon finds that the malignancy has spread beyond the prostate. And more so, when nests of cancer cells are found a considerable distance from the pelvic gland.

PROSTATE trouble strikes later in life and at an age when a heart attack or stroke may rob the gland of the honor causin death. Statistics show that 15 per cent of all males aged 50 to 59 have microscopic evidence of prostatic cancer.

In these instances, surgery for other reason uncovers the malignant cells. But the chance of dying from the Stage I form of the disease is 1 in 1000.

One-third of all male octogenarians have the same microscopic malignancy but stand only a 1 in 80 chance of living long enough to die from the disease.

In Stages I and II, there are no symptoms. Except in the latter, the physician can feel, with the examining finger, a hard nodlue. In Stage III, the cancer has spread outside the prostate; in IV, more distant metastasis exists (such as in bone). Surgery may be recommended in the first two forms, but is of little value in Stages III and IV.

TESTOSTERONE male sex hormones aggravate prostatic malignancies. Female sex hormones (estrogen) depress this form of cancer and there is no doubt that the products relieve any symptoms that might develop. Castration also is recommended to lessen the supply of testoterone and to give the estrogen full action.

But the plan has one drawback: The risk of dying from a heart attack is increased threefold over those who do not receive estrogens and succumb to cancer. Thus gains made with estrogen therapy may be lost.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.)

THERAPEUTIC DOSAGES

A reader writes: What is the meaning of "for therapeutic use only?" These directions sometimes are included on the packaging of vitamins.

REPLY

Therapeutic dosages contain a greater amount of vitamins than are needed to meet the minimum daily requirements. These high-potency products usually are prescribed for the treatment of a deficiency disease.

HE FLIPS

P.R. writes: Is it natural for a person to get shaky in the legs when he sees someone of the opposite sex he likes reall well?

REPLY

Yes. People react differently to this situation: in some, the heart goes pitty-pat. Others perspire excessively, tremble all over, hyperventilate, drool, gasp, whistle or say wow.

DIABETIC WEIGHT

A reader writes: What should be done about a diabetic who is getting thinner every day? This person takes insulin.

REPLY

This manifestation should be brought to the attention of the physician because another disease may coexist. If not, adjustments in diet and insulin may be needed.

TIRED BLOOD

A reader writes: Television commercials tell about tired blood. Just what is this condition?

REPLY

It is a creation of an imaginative advertising copywriter. There is no such malady.

TENSION HEADACHES

J. S. writes: I am a 23-year-old mother who has always suffered from frequent headaches, and the pain is not always in the same area. Lately, however, I get them every day. Aspirin helps. Does this sound serious?

REPLY

No, considering the law of averages on headaches. At your age, tension is the most common cause of head pain. There are other origins and it might be well for you to discuss this with your physician.

TV REVIEW

Coverage To Begin Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — "Turmoil within and threats of violence without" was Walter Cronkite's summary of conditions in Chicago of the eve of the opening of the Democratic National Convention.

Each of the three networks had a special program yesterday briefing viewers on the political climate and public temper. And, amid talk of floor fights, sharp disagreement on platform planks, film showing troops arriving to control any demonstrations outside the convention hall, the previews indicated that in term of TV action, the Democrats probably will produce more excitement and be more interesting to watch than the Republicans in convention a few weeks back.

The network newscasters, with facility born of much recent practice, smoothly laid down the foundations for their coverage that begins tonight.

The reporting teams talk about political maneuvers with the familiarity of ward bosses. They all seem to have more freedom to analyze, project, even editorialize, than in other convention years.

David Brinkley, for instance, has a tart and chilly tongue when angered, and he flared up when informed of the convention's decision to reduce the number of TV floor reporters. It must be said that the industrious interviewing and story-hunting of the networks' teams of four convention floor reporters took some of the curse off the meandering speechmaking that droned on in Miami Beach when even the delegates were ignoring them.

If only a fraction of the possible conflicts, inside and out of the hall occur, the convention may be stimulating if dismaying viewing.

CBS and NBC will continue their gavel-to-gavel coverage starting at 7:30 EDT tonight, and ABC will pick up at 9:30 with a 90-minute wrap-up of highlights and analyses.

Pat Paulsen, the comedian of CBS's "Summer Brothers Smothers Show," made his final appearance in the preconvention period spoofing the business of political campaigning. He presented his solution to gun control. Some of the thoughts were more macabre than funny, but his solution was ingenious: "Plenty of guns for everybody, but lock up all the bullets."

The program, with the attractive young country singer Glen Campbell, must be counted as the most successful for television's summer soldiers. Even if the show does not gain a winter time slot, Campbell has made good. He spins off the series into a fancy motion picture contract.

The program last night had some interesting camera work and some trick effects—Campbell played five different instruments in different spots on the same screen at one time. And Johnny Cash, a country-Western singer, gave a moving reading of an early Edna St. Vincent Millay poem—and you don't get poetry readings much on most variety shows.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KRON (4), KPIX (5), KCRA (3), KXTV (10), 4:30 p.m.—The Democratic National Convention will be covered as a public affairs special, from Chicago.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 9:30 p.m.—A 90-minute news coverage from the Democratic National Convention in Chicago consisting of five segments will be offered as a public affairs special.

Rezoning Seven Lots On Agenda

The Novato Planning Commission will consider a request to rezone from agriculture to planned residential seven lots on the northeast side of Diablo Avenue and Center Road when it meets at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

William J. Guinnane seeks the zone change.

Mrs. Florence Bobo has requested a rezoning from single family to multiple family for approximately two acres on South Novato Boulevard and Yukon Way.

Fernando and Mary F. Clementino want to rezone from agriculture to light industry approximately three acres at 496 Olive Avenue and seek permission to remove in excess of 30,000 cubic yards of material from the property.

Former Mayor Of Mill Valley Sued For Divorce

Maxine R. White has filed for divorce from Dr. Albert E. White, physician and former mayor of Mill Valley. The suit was filed Friday at the Marin County courthouse, charging White with cruelty.

The Whites have agreed on a property settlement in which she will get property at 102 Belvedere Drive, one car, a joint checking account in Mill Valley, and $1,250 for her interest in property in Siskiyou County.

White will get property at 909 Greenhill Road and 4 Valley Circle, one car, bank accounts in Terra Linda and the Siskiyou County property. He will pay $600 a month for support of the two sons and a daughter, who will remain in Mrs. White's custody.

The Whites were married in Los Angeles in 1954. White served two years as mayor of Mill Valley, and did not run for re-election to the city council this year.

Scooter Crash Injures Two

Two persons were injured when the motor scooter they were riding swerved into a ditch along Panoramic Highway, a quarter-mile west of Mountain Home Inn, Saturday afternoon.

The California Highway Patrol reported that a motor scooter driven by Michael Andrew Lyle, 27, of 75 King Street, Mill Valley, traveling north went off the roadway on a curve.

Bond Sales

Savings bonds sales in Marin for July totaled $125,550, boosting the 1968 sales total to $1,109,743, according to William P. Murray Jr., county savings bonds chairman. July sales statewide totaled $33,887,651.

Passenger Injures Ankle In Collision

Mrs. Beulah L. Gilbertson, 64, of San Francisco suffered a sprained ankle in a three-car collision on the Sausalito lateral, just south of Fort Baker Road, at 1 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Mrs. Gilbertson, who told officers she would see her own doctor, was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Alph Buford Gilbertson. Other cars involved in the rear-ender series were Tong and Wilfred A. Castro, both of San Francisco.

Motorcycle Riders Injured

Two youths were injured when their northbound motorcycle spilled along Shoreline Highway, 6 miles south of Stinson Beach at 4 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Injuries Minor In 101 Accident

A San Jose man was injured at 2:15 a.m. Saturday when his car left Highway 101 near the San Rafael exit and rolled over, California Highway Patrol reported.

Reynaldo Martinez, 30, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital for multiple cuts and scrapes. He told highway patrolmen he lost control after the car struck the shoulder of the road.

Motorcycle Stolen

San Rafael police reported yesterday that a motorcycle owned by William A. Finnegan of 23-A Warner Court was stolen from a garage at 11 Marquard Avenue sometime between Tuesday midnight and 5 p.m. Thursday.

Stops Tormenting Rectal Itch
Exclusive Formula Promptly Stops Itching, Burning and Relieves Pain of Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): The embarrassing itch caused by hemorrhoids is most torturous. But science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to promptly stop the burning itch, relieve pain and actually shrink hemorrhoids. And all without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H®. There is no other hemorrhoid formula like it. Preparation H also lubricates, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

All you have to do is to be too tired—or too lazy—to take your keys with you when you leave the car.

Is it really that simple? You bet it is.

Every day, 1,000 cars are stolen by kids under 18. In fact, nearly half of all those arrested for car theft are too young to have a driver's license.

How do they do it? You make it easy for them. Half the cars stolen had the keys left in the ignition. Or under the floor mat. Or on the visor.

Advertising contributed for the public good in cooperation with The Advertising Council and the International Newspaper Advertising Executives.
